Thousands of Colorful Shriners Pour Into City for Convention

BY MONTE ROBERTS

Nobles of the Mystic Order of the Shrine are arriving in Victoria today in such numbers that the city is faced with the biggest influx ever registered for a convention.

They are coming from Dallas, Texas, and Regina, Saskatchewan; Courtenay, V.I., and New York State; London, Ontario, and San Francisco, California; Kellogg, Idaho, and Calgary, Alberta; from thousands of miles, men of the Shrine are arriving to take part in the Golden Anniversary ceremonies of Gizeh Temple.

More than 4,000 nobles, plus an estimated 1,500 wives and children, will be in Victoria for the ceremonies which open Friday and end Sunday.

Many of the rites will be attended only by the Nobles—but the rest of Victoria will have ample opportunity to enjoy the color and pageantry of the men who have dedicated their lives to providing hospital for crippled children, Temples of Mercy, and Temples of Baby Smiles.

The first Shrine activity open to the general public is a pageant and dance at Memorial Arena, Friday evening. The pageant—in which more than 1,000 uniformed nobles will appear—begins at 7:30 p.m., and at 9 the ball will open.

Saturday morning, at 8:30, there will be a flag raising ceremony at the Legislative Building.

The balance of the morning will be devoted to Shrine business.

Toronto Ball Club Must Pay $250 Fine

TORONTO (CP)—Jack Kent Cooke, owner of Toronto Maple Leafs of the International Baseball League, pleaded guilty on behalf of the club today to a lottery charge laid after he gave away prizes to increase attendance at ball games. The club was fined $250.

ness. At 2 p.m. a grand parade will move off from Beacon Hill Park, along Douglas Street to Chatham, and finally to Memorial Arena.

More than 1,500 men of uniformed patrols will be in the parade, plus mounted patrols, massed bands, and other colorful features.

At 7:15 p.m., massed bands will play in Beacon Hill Park. Saturday will close for the Shriners with the illustrious Potentate's reception in the Curling Rink.

Sunday morning, the ceremonies will conclude with a church parade of all units. Assembly will be on Douglas Street, behind the Empress Hotel, and the route will be north to Fort Street, east to Quadra, south to Christ Church Cathedral.

A special service will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., after which the Nobles will march back to the Empress along the same route.

Socred's Perdue To Sue Dr. Kemp On Libel Charge

Statement Admits Fraud Conviction

B.C. Social Credit League president, John Perdue, has started legal action against Point Grey Independent Dr. W. N. Kemp, who charged last week the Socred official had a criminal record.

On Page 4 today will be found policy statements, in which Perdue, one of the four main parties engaged in the provincial election, reads these statements for a capsule account of party aims and objectives.

Mr. Perdue told the Times from Vancouver today he has started proceedings against Dr. Kemp, and the specific suit is "libel and slander."

Mr. Perdue described Dr. Kemp as "a manure spreader for the Liberal machine."

"I'm going to continue to fight Dr. Kemp and his Liberal friends," he said.

Mr. Perdue said he'll continue as president of the Socred League.

"In my disgust over this rotten attack, I said at the outset I'd offer my resignation," said Mr. Perdue. "But they wouldn't accept it."

Mr. Perdue is a former Socred, who Premier Bennett said, has returned to the Liberal fold.

Dr. Kemp alleged that Mr. Perdue was convicted for obtaining money by false pretenses in Vancouver between 1928 and 1933.

Mr. Perdue said in a radio broadcast Wednesday night that a "foolish mistake" he made 25 years ago while seeking work got him into trouble with the law.

PREMIER READY TO FLY SOLDIERS TO KOOTENAYS

NELSON (BUP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett said Wednesday night he would have soldiers flown into the Kootenays from Calgary, Alta., if necessary, to deal with any further Doukhobor violence.

The premier told railway representatives he would have the soldiers flown in "within a matter of hours." Bennett met representatives of the Slokan Citizens' Committee and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

His assurance of military action came in answer to a question from George Turner and W. H. Towhey, railway representatives.

HOUSEWIVES GREET QUEEN

Oh, Aren't You Lovely!

LONDON (UP)—Housewives of London's drab working-class districts today hailed their radiant Queen with admiring shouts "Oh, aren't you lovely," as the newly-crowned monarch drove through northwest London.

The Queen wore a navy blue costume, edged with white, and a smart, white, close-fitting hat for the second of her series of tours of London which will give her subjects a chance to see their sovereign "close-up."

Beside her in her open limousine rode the Duke of Edinburgh in morning clothes. Both were so smilingly happy that their good humor was infectious.

CROWD OF 50,000
A crowd of more than 50,000 saw them leave Buckingham Palace in a limousine with its top down. Their cheers of acclaim were an echo of the frenzy of the Coronation 48 hours earlier.

All along the route through Chelsea, Fulham, Hammer-smith, Hampstead, Kensington, Paddington, St. Marylebone and St. Pancras it was the same.

London seemed reluctant to lose the magic of the Coronation season. The mood everywhere was to keep the celebrations going as long as possible.

The entire route of the Queen's drive today was lined with window boxes filled with flowers.

Next Monday she will drive through southeast London and the following day through the southwest district of the sprawling capital.

Traffic was again in chaos in this capital of the Commonwealth today as streets were blocked off for the full dress rehearsal of trooping the color.

The traditional ceremony by the Brigade of Guards for the Queen's official birthday, June 11.

Historic Horse Guards' parade was a sea of scarlet as the Guards went through the complicated drill which is the highlight of the military year. The Queen will ride to the actual ceremonies next Thursday with the Duke of Edinburgh riding behind her. But today an expert horsewoman, Mrs. Archer Houbton, stood in for the Queen riding the horse, "Winston," which the Queen will ride.

Only Minor Differences Reported in Proposals

(Compiled from AP, UP Dispatches)

WASHINGTON—The Communist and United Nations commands were reported today to be close to agreement on a Korean war armistice.

Officially, there was the closest secrecy but it was clear that in high quarters of the government there was strong confidence that agreement on a truce was at hand.

There was a notable increase of optimism among officials and some indication the latest Red response could be considered as virtual acceptance of the UN proposals.

According to sources at Panmunjom, Korea, all major points in the Red proposal were identical to those in the "final" UN offer, one compromising the deadlocked the truce negotiations. The Communist counter-proposal, read to Allied representatives at a secret session at the truce talk site Wednesday, apparently brought peace in Korea closer than it has been since truce talks opened nearly two years ago.

Only the actual wording of the lengthy Red plan differed from the UN proposal, the source said.

Immediately after the meeting, the UN called for a one-day recess, only the Red reply was prisoner of war issue which has rushed to Washington.

1. Troops from five neutral nations, the majority from India, would guard Red prisoners refusing repatriation. Other nations suggested for policing duties were Switzerland, Sweden, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

2. Prisoners refusing to go home would be placed in the custody of a UN repatriation commission for 90 days while Red representatives under neutral supervision would attempt to persuade them to return.

3. After the 90-day period those still refusing repatriation would be turned over to a high-level political conference with final disposition of the reluctant prisoners resting in the hands of the UN General Assembly.

OTTAWA (CP)—An external affairs department spokesman said today it would be "wonderful" if the Communists accept United Nations truce terms in Korea.

However, the spokesman said that so far the department has received no official word that agreement on a truce is near.

ATOMIC FUEL 'BRED'

Process Multiplies Power 100 Times

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UP)—Gordon Dean announced today successful demonstration of atomic "breeding"—a process expected ultimately to multiply the world's nuclear fuel resources more than 100 times.

Dean, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, announced what he called this "new milestone" in man's conquest of the atom at the annual meeting of the Edison Electric Institute here.

He said atomic breeding, accomplished at the AEC's nuclear reactor testing station in Idaho, is as important in its implications for the future as if man had learned to produce 100 gallons of gasoline out of water for every 100 gallons of gasoline burned.

Breeding is the production of atomic fuel (fissionable material) simultaneously with the consumption of atomic fuel. Theoretically it is possible to manufacture more fuel than is consumed.

The AEC so far, however, has been able to breed only at the same rate it consumes fissionable materials, Dean said.

Even that, however, gives promise that it will be possible to convert all of the world's uranium into the material of bombs and fuels. As of now, only seven-tenths of one percent of natural uranium is fissionable.

With breeding, however, it is possible to transform all of the non-fissionable kind into atomic fuel, thus multiplying reserves by 140.

DOUBLE THE SIZE OF HIROSHIMA BLAST

Nevada Atom Bomb Flash Lights Lethbridge 1,000 Miles Away

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP)—The most powerful atomic bomb ever set off in the United States burst with the brilliance of a giant sun in the pre-dawn darkness today, lighting the western sky from Canada to Mexico and from the Golden Gate to Colorado.

One group of observers saw the flash in Lethbridge, Alta., a 1,000 miles away.

The tremendous explosion, possibly two and one-half times as strong as the A-blasts of the Second World War, concluded the Atomic Energy Commission's spring test series.

The AEC would not disclose officially just how strong the bomb was, but it was known to pack the explosive punch of more than 40,000 tons of TNT, and possibly as much as 50,000 tons.

The bombs used in the Second World War and the Bikini tests equaled 20,000 tons.

The brilliant flash was seen in southern Canada and deep in Mexico, where an observer said the flash "seemed to come from all over the sky."

A patrolman at Ogden, Utah, said, "You couldn't miss it. It was like a giant sun."

The shock of the 4.15 a.m. explosion rattled windows in Los Angeles, and hit Modesto, Calif., with a rumble that one radio announcer said "sounded like someone trying to break down the front door with a sledgehammer."

Angels, and hit Modesto, Calif., with a rumble that one radio announcer said "sounded like someone trying to break down the front door with a sledgehammer."

"A severe jar" jolted Western Pacific Railroad installations along the Feather River Canyon, and maintenance men were dispatched to check for test.

CROSSWORD PRIZE HITS $150 AS 'COB' STUMPS THOUSANDS

It was a three-letter word that kept most entrants from winning the Victoria Times crossword puzzle No. 10. Literally thousands of them gave "cob" as the answer to the definition "young and tasty." "Cob," meaning a young herring, was the word needed.

No one won, so the prize for puzzle No. 11, which will appear Friday, will be $150. The complete answer to puzzle No. 10 is on Page 19.

LAING PREFERS TORY OPPOSITION

Sacred Desire for Huge Majority Negation of Democracy, He Claims

A return to the two-party system of government was called for Wednesday night by Liberal Leader Arthur Laing, speaking at an election meeting at Langford Community Hall.

"I am a two-party-system man," he declared. "I think that's the best possible system for us—one party in power and the other waiting to get in."

Mr. Laing indicated what he felt should be the "other" party when he later commented: "I think there is a great place for Conservatism in this country."

Acknowledging a party required a clear majority to govern, he saw merit in a strong opposition force, and lambasted Premier Bennett who, he said, told a recent gathering he wanted all 48 seats in the B.C. Legislature.

STRANGER TO DEMOCRACY

"A person who talks like that doesn't know anything about democracy," Mr. Laing said.

In a later reference to the premier, the Liberal chief said: "I was engaged in political affairs long before he was. I was engaged in them when he was wearing an apron in a store."

"He seems to be very nervous lately, and upset about what the newspapers say. Somebody should have told him you've got to have nerves in political affairs. But they have to be nerves of steel and not of brass."

Mr. Laing said he believed 85 per cent of the people in British Columbia were "liberal-minded." He said it really didn't matter whether a big "E" or small "I" was used.

"Most people who support the CCF are liberal-minded people who want to do things in a greater hurry than the Liberal Party will do them."

IN LABOR'S INTEREST

He said it was not in the interests of labor to have industries government-owned, and thought most labor men realized this.

Covering Liberal campaign promises, he said one of the first things he would do would be to redistribute Legislative seats, perhaps increasing the strength of the House to 52.

He said new electoral boundaries were required since there had been a 52 per cent increase in population since last changes were made in 1937. He said the new distribution should be left to an independent commission, rather than a parliamentary committee, so that there could be no suggestion of political advantage.

He advocated the province's chief electoral officer should be one of the commissioners.

Liberal candidate Geoffrey Edgelow, on whose behalf the meeting was held, said he was optimistic of success, and that people of the district were giving him a completely different reception to that which they gave him in the 1952 campaign.

All other candidates in the Greater Victoria area failed to reply to the questionnaire at all.

CCF, LIBERALS AGREE

The questionnaire was designed to sound out all party standard bearers on whether or not they would support specific legislation sought by labor.

The CCF candidates answered yes to all questions. The Liberals answered yes to all, but added a number of qualifications in dealing with such matters as restoration of the right of unions to conduct their own strike votes, and of limiting the right of the courts to issue injunctions in connection with labor disputes.

South Koreans Battle Stubborn Communist Troops

SEOUL (AP) — Counter-attacking South Koreans battled hand-to-hand today with Communist troops clinging stubbornly to seven Allied hill positions in central and eastern Korea.

Units of four Republic of Korea divisions fought to drive Chinese and North Korean Reds from five outposts along Finger and Bloody ridges on the east-central front and from part of Luke the Gook's Castle and Anchor Hill in the east.

Troops of the South Korean 5th division quickly recaptured one outpost on Bloody Ridge, but heavy Red fire drove them back from another nearby, the 8th Army said.

Jaycees Red Tape Sale Campaign Designed as Short-Cut to Safety

Reflector tape, meant to reduce the hazards of night driving, will be sold by Junior Chamber of Commerce members at Royal Athletic Park tonight.

The Jaycees will canvass drivers who turn out for an all-party political forum taking place there at 8 p.m.

The tape, when attached to rear bumpers, "lights up" when rearlights of a following car are within a quarter mile. Applied in one-inch strips, it is designed to attract a following car's attention 70 per cent faster than an ordinary tail-light.

LIBERAL CANDIDATES Refute the "ROLSTON FORMULA" Because:

While the figures quoted in this editorial are for Vancouver City, the results in Greater Victoria would be in exact proportion. The "Rolston Formula" means immediate and ever increasing taxation for every home in Greater Victoria.

School attendance in Vancouver, School Superintendent H. N. MacCorkindale told the School Board, Tuesday evening, is increasing at the rate of 3,000 pupils a year. That means that Vancouver must provide each year 75 to 80 new schoolrooms and the same number of new teachers.

COST OF NEW SCHOOLS

A new schoolroom with all that goes with it—corridors, heating, plumbing, auditorium space and so forth, costs from $20,000 to $22,000, because, in Vancouver, schools must be of first class construction. Even our portable one-room schools cost $7,500—nearly as much as a permanent room in prewar days. So, in providing for our new pupils there will be a capital cost of from perhaps $1,500,000 to $1,750,000. This is shared on a 50-50 basis by the city and the Provincial Government.

TEACHERS SALARIES

In 80 new teachers engaged for the new schools, some will be men starting at $2,400 a year, some women starting at $2,200; and some will be teachers of experience who will be on a higher scale. Several new principals will probably be required, and several new janitors. Perhaps something will be added to the overhead, too, possibly an additional inspector and a secretary or two. The increase in the salary roll will hardly run to less than $200,000 a year and may well run to more.

On the existing basis, this additional cost is met by a per-teacher grant from the Provincial Government and by a share of the Municipal Aid tax. As more teachers are engaged, more money comes from the Provincial Government in the way of grants to meet their salaries. As the population of the province grows—and it is from this growth that the extra pupils come—the city's share of the 3 per cent tax increases, too. So, as costs increase, revenues increase progressively to meet them.

YOU WOULD FOOT THE BILL

Under the Rolston formula, which the Bennett government is pledged to enact, if returned to office, the per-teacher grant for the new teachers will cease and the share of the 3 per cent tax will be cut off. Instead, the city will be required to foot 75 percent of the increased bill. That will mean an additional $150,000 this year and next year and each year while the formula lasts. In addition, each new year, while the 3,000 pupil increase continues there will be another $45,000. Thus we shall go on, year by year, adding $150,000 to our school costs, and there will be no source from which that $150,000 can be paid except a tax on the real property of the city.

EVER INCREASING TAXATION

The city's taxable assessment, this year, is approximately $350,000,000. A levy of $150,000 on that amounts to three-sevenths of a mill. That is perhaps not very much. But it must be remembered that the levy is cumulative—three-sevenths of a mill this year, three-sevenths more next year, and so on. In seven years the addition will be three mills.

SOCREDS WOULD GRAB SALES TAX

Meanwhile, the Provincial Government will be absorbing the whole of the 3 per cent tax of which one-third is now pledged to the municipalities and the yield of that tax, because of population increase, will be going steadily up.

The existing plan of meeting school costs is not adequate, but it has at least the merit of flexibility. As costs go up, revenues go up, also. The two are tied together.

AN INIQUITOUS PLAN

The iniquitous thing about the Rolston formula is that it severs the link between costs and revenues and substitutes rigidity for flexibility. It throws an increasing share of education costs back on real property and the whole trend of education finance has been to lighten the tax on land, because it has been appreciated that land, which is no longer a measure of capacity to pay, is unable to bear the burdens thrust on it.

It is wealth, not homes that should be meeting education costs.

Duke Uses Helicopter for Fast Travel

It has become a familiar sight in London to see the Duke of Edinburgh take off in a helicopter from the lawn of Buckingham Palace. At left, Philip boards flying windmill after 10-minute hop to Royal Artillery Barracks at Woolwich. At right the Duke flies past the monument of Queen Victoria, whose name brings back memories of the days of the penny-farthing and the horse-bus. Meanwhile, the London News Chronicle reported today that RAF stations throughout Britain are being warned not to let the Duke go for unscheduled flights, especially in jets. The Duke recently qualified for his pilot's wings. (London Daily Mirror photos.)

Living Costs Expected To Show Another Drop

OTTAWA (CP)—Living costs—down five months in a row—may be in for another dip.

The bureau of statistics survey for April likely will be published Friday. Indications are it may show some further weakening in food prices, leading to the sixth consecutive monthly decline in living costs. For months now, lower food prices have been the main factor in trimming the consumer price index which reached its peak of 118.2 in December, 1951.

The new prices yardstick, based on 1949 prices equaling 100, made its fifth consecutive decline in March, dropping one-fifth of a point to 114.6 from 114.8 in February.

The old cost-of-living index, based on 1935-39 prices equaling 100, also slipped during March, dropping three-tenths of a point to 183.9 from 184.2. Lower food prices topped the impact of higher rents. This was the second consecutive drop for the old yardstick which reached a peak of 191.5 in December, 1951.

FORMER FRENCH LEADERS FIGHT MENDES-FRANCE

PARIS (UP)—A powerful group of former French premiers joined forces today in a fight to block approval of Radical Socialist Pierre Mendes-France as head of a government which would reverse the nation's domestic and foreign policies.

The National Assembly resumed debate today on the 46-year-old finance expert's bid for the premiership after failing to reach a vote in a 14-hour session Wednesday.

It was the longest investiture debate in French post-war history. It indicated a growing importance attached to the challenge of Mendes-France, a political dark horse, now given a 50-50 chance of becoming premier.

The ex-premiers went into action behind the scenes when Mendes-France's stock rose following his Assembly speech Wednesday pledging drastic political changes and urging French independence from U.S. aid.

The Political Pot

A Liberal meeting at Langford Wednesday was interrupted by an earnest young man who came from Colwood to ask for volunteers to contribute to a Red Cross blood clinic being held in the neighboring community.

No one left the meeting to answer the call but platform speaker George Shepherd commented:

"This is one of the few meetings he could come to and ask for blood. We're out for blood."

The announcement that district Pro-Rec offices on Bastion Street have been closed and the work taken over by the department of education is in line with recent cutting of Pro-Rec expenditures by the Socred government.

However, Pro-Rec enthusiasts report that it goes against the grain to call the old Pro-Rec phone number, taken out and placed elsewhere since, to hear the phone answered, "Social Credit headquarters."

Liberal Arthur Ash won a few friends with this one at a meeting Wednesday night of all four Saanich election candidates in Royal Oak Hall.

"Why did your government impose the three per cent sales tax on fuel oil?" he was asked by a Social Credit follower.

"If it was so iniquitous, why didn't your government remove it?" Mr. Ash answered.

In Prince Rupert, supporters of Attorney-General Robert Bonner rode a horse named "Currie" around Gyo Park before a Socred outdoor rally.

Oak Bay Liberal candidate Reeve P. A. Gibbs, Wednesday night thanked his opponents for "maintaining the Oak Bay campaign on a high level."

"We have avoided mud slinging and personalities," he said.

Liberal Leader Laing Wednesday night scoffed at Premier Bennett for referring to himself in newspaper advertisements as "Prime Minister of B.C."

"There's only one prime minister in this country, and that's Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent," said Mr. Laing. "When I'm elected, I'll be premier, not prime minister."

NO 'MUNICH' OR GENERAL WAR, SAYS IKE

President Promises To Work for Peace

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday night his administration will neither tolerate a "new Munich" nor risk a "general war" in its effort to achieve an honorable peace in Korea and the world.

In an unprecedented television report from the White House, Mr. Eisenhower sought to put his countrymen at ease regarding American policy in the current critical armistice negotiations at Panmunjom.

He said bluntly he would not be a party to appeasing Communism. At the same time, he vowed his resistance to an expanded war would be too horrible to contemplate.

The President offered these sober thoughts as he made his debut as moderator of a folksy discussion of government problems in which four of his cabinet officers served as a supporting cast.

As he chatted with the attorney-general and the secretaries of treasury, agriculture and health, education and welfare, the President made no effort to give his listeners any startling new policy proposals.

Instead, Mr. Eisenhower and his colleagues concentrated on informal assurance and explanations about the excess profits tax, the size of the air force, crop surpluses and the complicated federal budget.

Republican lawmakers generally praised the program as an effective way to present the administration's policy to the people. But some Democrats suggested it glossed over basic facts.

Sen. Wayne L. Morse (I-Ore.) snapped: "I've seen better vaudeville shows."

St. Laurent Planning Canada-Wide Tour

Prime Minister Rests Before Trek In Anticipation of August Voting

By VICTOR MACKIE, Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Prime Minister L. St. Laurent will visit all 10 provinces in a streamlined trans-Canada election campaign tour starting about June 27, according to Liberal Party plans nearing completion here.

The prime minister after his return to Ottawa from the Coronation and Commonwealth Conference in London will attend a major cabinet meeting expected to be held June 12.

Then he will proceed to his summer home at St. Patrick's, Que., for a short holiday. In the last week of June he will start a busy tour which will keep him on the move right up until election day, expected to be August 10. He will travel by train for the greater part of the tour, but chartered aircraft will carry him into some constituencies. A greater use of the radio for provincial hook-ups is to be made by the prime minister.

He will not embark on a grand whistle-stop tour such as he made in 1949. Such an intense campaign tour in the heat of summer would be too exhausting and Liberal party planners point out that Mr. St. Laurent, since he became prime minister, has visited 214 of the 265 federal constituencies, with repeat visits for some of the ridings. Hence it is now felt that he is comparatively well-known across the country.

The 1953 campaign tour by the prime minister will be more like the type of tour his predecessor, the late W. L. Mackenzie King used to make during election campaigns.

OTTAWA (BUP)—Canadians are drinking more beer and less hard stuff and wine, the Bureau of Statistics reported today. But the nation's preference for the cheaper beverage has not resulted in any reduction in the amount of money being spent on liquor.

The bureau said that Canadians spent about $741,000,000 on liquor in 1952. This was $49,000,000 or seven per cent higher than in the previous year.

But to an expenditure of about $53 for every man, woman and child in the country.

Senate Backs Plan to Keep Red China Out

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate has unanimously approved, 76-0, a resolution opposing the admittance of Communist China to the United Nations.

The policy declaration—tacked on to an appropriations bill for the state, justice and commerce departments—was a substitute for a previous proposal to cut off U.S. funds to the UN if China were admitted.

This controversial proposal was withdrawn after President Eisenhower assured Republican leaders he would actively oppose any attempt to seat Red China in the UN.

The house is expected to approve the declaration later.

Mr. Laing Raises the Tone

THE CAUSE OF POLITICS IN British Columbia was well served by Mr. Arthur Laing, the new Liberal leader, in his Oak Bay address last night. In a riding which has been notable for the high level of the campaign conducted, Mr. Laing pleaded for an end to the widespread personal abuse, recriminations, and "playing the man instead of the ball," which have unhappily been so patent in the majority of districts.

In pledging his party to "put the nightmare of recriminations behind us," if returned to office, the forthright young Liberal leader emerged as a man of high purpose and sincerity. "Let's deal with the issues," he argued, to resounding applause.

The major issues, as he sees them, are the healing of the widening rift between labor and management; preservation of British Columbia's excellent school system; an equitable hospital insurance system which does not reward defaulters; a return to sound financing.

For the first time within recent memory, a candidate spoke, too, of the glittering promise of the province as a whole. Recently returned from a swing around B.C., in which he visited each of the ridings, Mr. Laing spoke with enthusiasm about the future of the Peace River country. As a graduate agronomist, he said that soil conditions were such that the Peace could support "millions" with its top-quality grain, and pledged his party to completion of the northern link of the PGE from Prince George, to provide an outlet for this rich produce.

At the same time, Mr. Laing emphasized that he believes in local autonomy for members of his party, pointing to the fact that Oak Bay Liberal candidate Archie Gibbs, as long-time reeve of the municipality, was better informed on its problems than any "inner Cabinet circle" could possibly be.

Turning to the relationship of British Columbia and the federal government (where he served as permanent committee member on the universal pensions at 70 legislation), Mr. Laing pledged himself to complete co-operation with Ottawa, regardless of which party was in power at the national level. His observation that the Liberal government had created a Canada "united as never before" drew sustained applause from his audience.

It is clear that in Mr. Laing, the Liberals have a leader of broad outlook and considerable personal dynamism. He has been in charge provincially just a few months, but he is the only party leader in the current campaign with federal experience. Should he be able, on June 9, to lead his party back to power, it will be a political tour de force of the first magnitude.

His appeal last night ("Let's get back to work") won him many friends, as did his buoyant confidence in the future of this country. The Oak Bay meeting set a pattern for orderly, sane discussions, which might well be emulated by other districts.

Marshalling Opinion

PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF the Commonwealth unity so often spoken of during the days leading up to the Coronation may be seen in the conference of prime ministers now taking place in London.

While no doubt a number of matters of internal interest will be discussed during the week-long meetings, Sir Winston Churchill is reported to be anxious to secure the support of the Commonwealth members for his plan for a Big Three meeting with Russia.

President Eisenhower has shown himself somewhat cool toward the proposal that he, the British leader and Russia's Malenkov should meet soon to iron out East-West difficulties. The President has taken the stand that the Soviet should first make some concrete gesture of good faith in the cause of peace by removing obstacles to a Korean armistice and halting aggression in south-east Asia.

Sir Winston, on the other hand, appears to feel that much good could come from an early meeting of the three leaders, placing some reliance on the effect of an immediate exploration of the new Malenkov approach to world affairs.

Preparing his argument for the Bermuda meeting with Mr. Eisenhower and the French premier later this month, the British premier's stand would be much strengthened if he could go with the solid agreement of the Commonwealth nations behind him. This, according to one London report, he will have.

When the family of nations speaks with one voice on such a question, it represents the combined voices of nearly half a billion persons—no small consideration where the moral weight of public opinion is a factor in the situation.

Who's Visiting Where?

THERE IS A VAGUE AND PERHAPS unfortunate whimsy in the spectacle of Mrs. Tilly Rolston attacking her Vancouver neighbor, Liberal leader Arthur Laing, as an emissary from Ottawa, while she supports the appeal of Mr. Einar Gunderson to Oak Bay voters.

Mrs. Rolston can scarcely have overlooked the fact that her name and that of Mr. Laing are on the same Vancouver-Point Grey ballot and that the Liberal is there because he considers it proper to seek the personal endorsement of the people of the community in which his home is located.

Gratifying Response

AS THEY REVIEW THE events of the week, leaders of Victoria's celebration committee have every reason to be gratified by the success of the program they sponsored. They should find particular satisfaction in the enthusiasm with which greater crowds than ever before attended many events, reflecting both appreciation for the spectacles they were offered and the buoyant atmosphere of Coronation Day.

Four major features, the parade, the May Queen ceremonies, the Gorge regatta and the fireworks, transformed wholeheartedly into the festival, collected and displayed exhibits of priceless craftsmanship and joined with enthusiasm in the presentation of the songs and dances of their former homes. The success of the displays and demonstrations was attested by the crowds which thronged to the curling rink as spectators.

That popularity demonstrates a growing appreciation in Greater Victoria of the contributions new Canadians have to make to the national fabric. It parallels a similar recognition of the value of Indian folkways, customs and crafts in which interest has been so generally revived.

Greater Victoria is showing a warm response to the old and new elements which are being fused in a more confident acknowledgement of the enriched culture of Canada.

A Richer Cultural Fabric

Additional activities in this community, are not revenue-producing. Public support through purchase of membership tickets and added financial assistance resulting from gate receipts at other events—particularly the folk festival this year—have, however, assisted in defraying expenses.

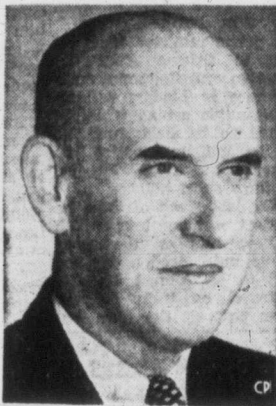

The spectacles enjoyed by thousands here this week were the product of long hours of work by a great number of people. To them, and to Mr. Frank Hunter, the directing official, the community owes its thanks.

By ARNOLD WEBSTER, Leader of the CCF Party

'Creative Function of Promoting Well-Being'

As a service to the voting public The Victoria Daily Times here presents, in alphabetical order, statements from the leaders of the four main political parties contesting seats in the provincial election. The statements are presented in their entirety, as received from the party headquarters.

FOR 20 years the CCF has spoken with a voice of sanity and practical realism. In opposition we have gained experience and a maturity that qualifies us for still greater responsibility. We have proved ourselves in opposition. We are ready to form the next government of British Columbia.

WEBSTER

We believe that the first requirement of good government is plain honesty and moral integrity. At no time is the CCF under obligation to anyone because of financial contributions. Our books are always open to any who wish to investigate the sources of our funds. The CCF respects the public's right to know where each party stands on vital issues. We have no use for clever double-talk. Our candidates advance a common policy which they have helped to shape in open convention.

The second essential of good government is competency. You want to know if the CCF has enough qualified men and women to govern effectively. I am satisfied that the answer is "yes." Our candidates are well known for their service in many fields—service on municipal boards, in farm organizations, in labor unions, in co-operatives, in voluntary community groups of many kinds.

The third characteristic of good government is a respect for knowledge. In making decisions a government must first get the facts. I can assure you that the CCF will take every possible precaution to examine problems with the aid of all available research facilities, so that our actions may be well based.

We shall at all times consult organized groups of citizens like the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, the Union of B.C. Municipalities, the B.C. Teachers' Federation, the organized labor union bodies, the organized employers, and others whose opinions are relevant. We shall do this while legislation is still in the formative stage. The CCF believes in grass-roots democracy rather than in ready-made proclamations.

The fourth requisite of good government is sincere acceptance of the essential processes of political democracy. Canadians, like other members of the Commonwealth, have established many democratic safeguards that must not be lightly cast aside.

The CCF was disturbed by the open scorn with which, during the recent session at Victoria, the government treated those members who desired to speak for their constituents in the Throne debate. We were concerned over the refusal of cabinet ministers to answer questions relative to the affairs of their department.

More recently we have been alarmed by the action of a caretaker cabinet in amending the Hospital Insurance Act, a procedure reserved for the Legislature. The CCF will act to protect the rights of the people's representatives so that they may have the fullest opportunity to perform their duties, either in government or in opposition.

Within this framework of principle, a CCF government will implement its program in a systematic and steady way. Basic to it is the belief that it is the function of the government to enable the citizens of this province to do together those things which they cannot do as individuals. In British Columbia the CCF has taken the lead in pioneering this conception of government which today has gained wide acceptance.

Hence it is today generally agreed that it is the duty of government to concern itself with employment, housing, education, health, markets, transportation, power, and a host of other matters vital to the life of this province. Where individual initiative has not been able to provide the public with the products and services they need at a price they can afford, the government has stepped in to handle the problem in a way which has proved beneficial to the great majority.

This view that the government has the highly creative function of promoting the well-being of all the citizens is the particular contribution of the CCF to Canadian politics. The challenge of our day is to think, not in terms of competition and strife, but in terms of co-operation and fellowship. Surely this is the Canadian way and the Christian way.

By ARTHUR LAING, Leader of the Liberal Party

'The Keen Demand for Sound Leadership'

AFTER June 9, our first and main duty is to re-establish responsible government in British Columbia.

It is but natural that I, having been born in this province and having spent a hold dear within its boundaries, should desire to see my fellow British Columbians flourish and prosper. I think this is the soundest of Liberal policies.

Our schools, our universities, our cultural centres, our spiritual interest—these, British Columbians must place first.

But to maintain these agencies for the development of the minds and souls and bodies of our young people in British Columbia, we must look well to the everyday duties of British Columbians.

Our industries must flourish; our credit must be kept high; our standing before the other provinces of Canada and our place in the British Commonwealth must be maintained, so that when we express our devotion to Her Majesty the Queen we may say with a good heart that we are doing our duty in British Columbia in our part of this great galaxy of nations under the crown of Elizabeth II.

My swing through the Kootenays, the Boundary country and the Okanagan Valley, through Kamloops, Nicola and Salmon Arm, and on down through the Fraser Valley, the Delta and Richmond, has enabled me to meet personally this great segment of the people of British Columbia who are producing the major share of her natural wealth. I need not say that it will be Liberal policy in government to foster by every possible means the extension of those basic industries which make our existence possible in this Pacific province.

LAING

The reception given me on Vancouver Island and at coastal cities and towns, camps and mills, indicates the keen demand for sound leadership in Victoria.

To the people of the cities of British Columbia I say this: The prosperity of the interior regions of this vast province means the prosperity of the cities and towns—the industrial centres, the shipping centres—the railway divisional points.

Our Liberal appeal is an appeal to unity. An appeal in these trying times to the use of intelligence and integrity with devotion. The commitment of our integrity lies in the calibre of the candidates who have offered to serve. We shall make no attempt to defile. Our appeal is to all people and not to regions; we want no one to take unfair advantage of anyone and we offer in larger measure than any other party the first prerequisites of public service, which are intelligence and leadership.

We have no intention of conducting an auction sale for power with the people's money. Our platform, which is short, simple and clearly written, is of advantage to every British Columbian and has been placed in the hands of every voter.

I said, on my assumption of the leadership of the Liberal party, that we should get our feet on the ground and our heads in the air. The course of the Liberal campaign has seemed to lend wide attention to that admonition. We Liberals have no intention of arrogating to ourselves any claim that we alone know what is best for the people. Our democratic system is dependent upon predominant public consent. A stupid law can never be enforced. Stupid leadership can lead only to chaos. Intelligence, integrity and devotion are the requirements in all times of crisis. A mass movement without intelligent public confidence. Our appeal has addressed itself to obtaining this public confidence. Any other appeal is illiberal and fatuous.

This is the Pacific Era in world history. When Queen Victoria was crowned in 1837, the world was well into the final phases of the Mediterranean Era. A century of the Atlantic domination of world trade is succeeded by the Pacific Era.

British Columbia stands today as the guardian of the realms of Elizabeth II on the North Pacific Ocean. World events have made that ocean the place where the destiny of nations is to be decided. British Columbia therefore must have the strongest possible government—the most stable government. British Columbia is the interpreter of Canada on the Pacific. What we do here will influence our neighbors to the south, in China, Japan, Malaya, and the far-flung places beyond the sunset sea.

Let us then be true to the ideals of the Britishers who founded British Columbia. They built well and upon us who come after is the duty of protecting a great tradition, the responsibility of adding to the talents which Providence has given us. Let us so conduct the affairs of B.C. that we may later turn over to our children their heritage enlarged and enriched because of our efforts in British Columbia in this year of the Coronation of Her Most Gracious Majesty Elizabeth II.

By DEANE FINLAYSON, Leader of the Progressive Conservative Party

'An Envious Record of Achievement'

ON JUNE 9, the people of British Columbia must make a decision—the most serious and important in the history of the province. With so many political parties appealing for public support, it will not be easy for the average voter to decide which party or candidate should be supported.

For those who embrace socialism with its state ownership of industries, the choice is relatively simple. It is necessary only to accept the fact that you must surrender your individualism and freedom of action. You throw yourself upon the mercies of politicians to run and control everything for you.

For those people who are inclined towards the commonly-called private enterprise parties, the decision is difficult to make—unless of course one has taken the time to study the various parties on the right. This, of course, the average voter has not had time to do. Of the parties in this group, Social Credit has the obvious advantage by being the government. As to whether or not there is any justification for continuing to support this movement, my theory is this:

That there is no justification for the existence of this party, except to carry out its avowed intention of changing the whole economic structure of this nation. If this is what one wants done, then he should vote for Social Credit. If, however, he does not want to throw out the present financial system, then he has the alternative of voting Liberal or Conservative.

The Liberal Party has ruled, or dominated politically in British Columbia for some 36 years. We have some abuses of power and party patronage carried to extremes during this period. A vote for the Liberal party would then perpetuate this undesirable feature of the government.

For those people who subscribe to a truly private enterprise concept of government, the Conservative Party in British Columbia stands to best serve your interests today. It is a party with a long history and tradition, and an enviable record of achievement. It is concerned with the immediate problems confronting British Columbia, the two most important of which are taxation and trade.

There is a popular trend today to tax everything and anybody without regard for the consequences. The forest and mining industries, the backbone of our prosperity in British Columbia are faced with new taxation if the Social Credit government is returned. While there is a popular clamour to impose a resources tax on this bountiful heritage in British Columbia, over-taxation can be disastrous. Mines and logging camps are closed down in this province because they cannot operate profitably. More mines and camps will be closed down if new taxation is imposed. This means fewer jobs for British Columbians.

The Conservative Party believes that every possible dime that can be safely taken from not only these two principal industries, but all industry, should be taken for the public purse. We believe a levelling off in taxation is necessary. If our industries are to continue operating in a competitive world, incentive and reward must be kept alive. Taxation arrangements must be reviewed in other fields. This controversial Bill 45 which is not more or less than a new weapon of taxation, embraces not only the power to impose a Personal Property Tax on every property owner in British Columbia, it also carries a concealed weapon to kill local economy at the municipal level of government.

FINLAYSON

Rather than impose new taxation for education, the Conservative Party proposes a redistribution of the cost of education, to take the burden off the property owner. We propose the Provincial government should pay 80 per cent of the operating costs, and the people in the municipalities 20 per cent.

Under the subject of taxation, comes also the need of a conference of the three levels of government—municipal, provincial and federal—to redefine the obligations and responsibilities of each, and then provide the necessary funds from the different sources of taxes available to enable each to carry out its obligations.

On the subject of trade, little has been said in this campaign. While it is generally conceded to be a federal responsibility, we in British Columbia must act on our own behalf if federal authorities become ineffective, which they now are.

This province depends on exporting its lumber, fish, minerals and agricultural products. A vigorous effort must be initiated by the government in this province to assist in maintaining and creating markets. The Conservative party feels that this can be done among our Commonwealth neighbors, and we will do it.

The basic fundamentals of government are being overlooked—yielding to the appeal of emotion, and even mass hysteria. If we are to continue to develop and prosper in this tremendously and fabulously rich province of British Columbia, we must stop experimenting with government. We must turn away from political opportunists. We must fasten our minds on reason. We must return to the other basic fundamentals of honesty, integrity, and sound, well-considered practices of good management of our affairs.

The Conservative Party is a party of all people. It represents no particular class. It has but one guiding principle—to give the people of British Columbia what they want in the most economical practical, reasonable way, and at the same time protect and preserve the rights and individual freedoms of everyone.

By PREMIER W. A. C. BENNETT, Leader of the Social Credit Party

'A Majority That is so Necessary'

THANK YOU for this opportunity of allowing me to make a statement in your newspaper because I feel as your Premier there are some things which should be said at this time.

In this election four parties are seeking your support and I do not deny that in all the parties there are many good men and women.

It is clear that the 229 candidates cannot all be elected as there are only 48 vacancies.

If all parties elected some of their members then no one party would have a working majority, a majority that is so necessary if our system of responsible government is to work properly.

One year ago the electors of British Columbia elected more Social Credit members than any other party and on August 1 the Lieutenant-Governor called on me as the Leader of the Social Credit movement to form a government.

I accepted the difficult task with only 19 members out of a total of 48. This is the first time a minority government has operated in our province.

While your Social Credit government carried out many reforms such as, abolished patronage—waste and extravagance and secret orders-in-council and saved the people of the province many millions of dollars and at the same time is carrying out the largest highway and public works program in the history of the province without borrowing.

We have now reduced the net debt by a total of over $33,000,000 whereas the old government stated, just one year ago, that they would have borrowed $28,000,000 this year.

It has therefore been proved that the Social Credit government has the best interests of the people at heart and has the men and women in their organization well-qualified to give you good government.

The last session of the Legislature proved that the Social Credit government needed a working majority if it is to continue to carry out its constructive program, because without a majority the combined opposition could talk for weeks and in fact they talked for eight weeks at the last session of the Legislature and only allowed one bill to pass before they combined to defeat your minority government.

It is therefore clear that it is in the best interests of all the people in our province that we elect a party with an overall majority.

In Maclean's magazine of the current issue, June 1, a recognized, outstanding political writer states as follows and I quote, "Social Credit has one clear advantage—the average voter's desire is a stable government. No one, not even the Liberals and Conservatives, themselves will go so far as to predict a Liberal or Conservative victory. Therefore, the only non-socialist government with any hope of majority is the present Social Credit government," unquote.

Many large and small industries are awaiting the outcome of this election. If the Social Credit government has a good working majority new industries will be commenced with increased payrolls and benefit to all.

It is clear that only the Social Credit has a chance to secure a majority government and that this is the time for clear thinking. British Columbia is at the crossroads—a majority government is vital, only Social Credit can elect a majority government—This is a time when everyone should rise above party politics.

—The issue is clear, it is Social Credit or chaos.

BENNETT

I make you only one promise, if you vote first choice "Social Credit," we will give you good government.

Something to Crow About

RAUCOUS sounds outside the bedroom window the other morning shortly after 6 o'clock awoke me from a sound sleep and for a moment I thought I was in the midst of a nightmare, listening to the jeers of an antagonistic audience. But I soon realized that what I heard was a caucus of crows making such a noise that you would almost have thought they were involved in an election campaign to choose a new government for Crowland.

For a few moments I lay listening to the din, until my husband, always an early riser, decided to get up and see what it was all about. And he quickly called me to see the latest addition to our collection of visitors.

It was a full-grown raccoon, clinging to the trunk of one of our oak trees and obviously very harassed by the unwelcome attention of the squawking birds. Nearly a dozen of them were harrying him with shrill cries and diving down as if to peck him to bits.

Finally, the unhappy creature came down from the tree and escaped into the lily bed among the shrubs, and there sat peering out at us as if wondering what fate was in store for him. Not being sure as to what to do, we decided to consult an expert, so called up the police to enquire if they had a raccoon-hunting department.

Out came an amiable policeman in double-quick time, armed with a rifle. But by that time Mr. Raccoon had vanished, and even the crows took off, as if fearing that the law might be after them. But while the trespasser played possum I learned quite a lot about raccoons from our uniformed visitor.

He doubted if we would be able to locate the animal until the crows came back and started their worrying tactics, as raccoons, it seems, are nocturnal animals who work on night shifts and sleep during the day in some fork of a tree where it is hard to see them.

It was this departure from schedule which apparently annoyed the crows, who very much resent such an intrusion on their preserves. And I use the word "preserves" advisedly because it seems that both crows and raccoons have an appetite for birds and their eggs. "Coons, I learned, will not only clean out a chicken run—including both broilers and eggs—but have a particular sweet tooth for "buggies," those beautiful little parakeets which are such popular pets.

As this is written the raccoon is still in hiding, but if he re-appears I shall not have the slightest compunction in again enlisting the law against him—for Mr. Raccoon looks like the villain in the mysterious murder of one of our nesting quail, and her potential progeny, and I am admittedly out for revenge.

FROM WASHINGTON

By WALTER LIPPMAN

America and the Coronation

MANY men who live far beyond the Commonwealth and Empire come here to see the Coronation of the Queen draw the British people together in a common celebration. They do participate in the solemn rite. For the British have made out of the forms and usages of their own unique history a great work of art which celebrates the saving truth about the government of men.

It is the truth that in every good society there must be a common centre, known to be legitimate, to which the loyalty and the public love of all men are bound. That centre of allegiance may be incarnate in an actual person, as in a republic, it may be disembodied and have its being in the idea of the Constitution and its ideal meaning.

But always and everywhere if a government is to be good, a centre of men's allegiance must be recognized that is above the diversities and conflicts of their interests, and that is invulnerable to the pressure of party, faction, class, race and sect.

And since this centre of men's worldly allegiance must be beyond the reach of their worldly passions, it must be founded in what must be consecrated to the realm of the spirit.

This is the universal essence which Queen Elizabeth II represents for all mankind. In the course of the centuries the British people—the most gifted in government since the Romans and with their genius in poetry—have invested monarchy with the meaning that must be recognized somewhere and somehow in any state—whether or not it has a king—if it is to be governed well.

The ritual itself is an eloquent record of how this has been done. The truths of this rite are most timely for our day. Our generation would, in any circumstances, be more sensitive to the coronation ceremony than those that have preceded it, even if by great good fortune the Queen were to be crowned by the Prime Minister, so undoubtedly the chivalrous and dauntless champion of freedom and good hope.

This is a moment to reaffirm and to celebrate the essential truths. For the future of the free democratic societies hangs in the balance because, confronted with the challenge of their adversaries, they are so weakened by the conflict and confusion within and among themselves.

If the free world is in this great peril, it is not because the adversaries of freedom are so strong or so attractive but because so many, indeed most, of the large democratic states are at the moment so badly governed.

In many of them, the U.S. also included, good government is undermined by the usurpation of the sovereign power by the popular assembly.

In the crisis of western society this usurpation has brought about a paralysis and panic fear which threaten to wreck the position of the whole free world, and to destroy the freedom and the kindly community of men with one another at home.

This usurpation of the sovereign power is a popular assault, incited by demagogues, against the prerogatives, the guarantees, and the very structure of free constitutions. This has become possible in what should be law-abiding and freedom-loving communities because of the wide and general acceptance of the heresy that has corrupted and would destroy democracy.

This is the heresy that majorities can do no wrong, that there is no higher truth than the transient opinions of contemporary majorities, and that there is no higher law than the ambitions and the manoeuvres of the persons they are persuaded to elect.

Lesson In Perseverance

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Most young actresses would almost break their necks to land a movie contract. Not Geraldine Page. She passed up Hollywood offers until she could come under her own terms.

Geraldine's story is a lesson in perseverance. She was a Chicago girl who wanted to be an actress. She went about it methodically enough, playing seven years in little theatres in Illinois.

After a number of ups and downs, mostly down, she landed a role in Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke" which was being done by a little outfit in New York's Greenwich Village called the Circle in the Square. She and the show were a hit. Critics came to the little theatre and went away to write rave reviews.

The talent scouts from all the studios also came. Each had an interview with Geraldine and each got the same answer.

"I don't want to tie myself to any movie contract," she told them. "Wait until I make a big name for myself on Broadway. Then I can come to Hollywood on my own terms, instead of signing my life away."

The actress now recalls that "they looked at me as though I were crazy."

This season she appeared on Broadway in "Midsummer." The show was a failure, but it established Geraldine as the brightest new star of the theatre. She tied with Shirley Booth in the critics' vote of the best performance by an actress during the season.

She came to terms with Hollywood. Her own terms, that is. She signed a deal with Charles Feldman that gives the stage top priority in her future plans. Her first picture will be "Hondo" with John Wayne. She plays a pioneer wife, the only woman in the cast. The picture will be made entirely on location in Chihuahua, Mexico.

My first view of Geraldine was not too impressive. She was testing for her picture role and was decked out in a frumpy Mother Hubbard. She had frizzy hair and wore glasses. Not much glamour there.

But when she took off the cheaters and began talking, I realized what a fascinating personality she is. She has a compassionate face and talks in a provocative manner. In the midst of a serious discussion, she is liable to say, "my face itches; they told me not to touch the make-up but I can't help it, it itches!"

DUNCAN — Councillor Maj. Gen. C. A. P. Murison had the answer for disposition of the carcass of a seal that washed ashore at Chemainus, and landed "in spirit" on the North Cowichan council table.

"Wait for high tide, tow the carcass to sea, tie half a dozen sticks of dynamite to it, light the fuse, and get away fast," he said.

Council approved an expenditure of $6 for the venture.

LADYSMITH — Ladysmith General Hospital board of directors will begin work immediately to have plans prepared for a new hospital.

Records From Peary's Polar Expedition Found in Arctic

OTTAWA (CP)—A fragment of the United States flag that was first planted on the North Pole has been found in the Arctic by two young Canadian scientists.

With the historic piece of blue silk from the Stars and Stripes, the explorers found records of one of Admiral Robert Peary's polar expeditions on North America's northernmost mountain, 400 miles south of the pole.

Canada's defense research board Wednesday announced word of the discovery from its two scientists, who have been investigating the ice shelf bordering the northern coastline of Ellesmere Island, where Peary jumped off for the pole.

The cache was found on Cape Columbia Mountain by Geoffrey Hattersley-Smith, 30, of Ottawa, a glaciologist, and Robert Blackadar, 23, of Ottawa, a geologist.

In a letter written May 22 and just received by the board, Hattersley-Smith wrote: "From the summit of Cape

Lost Her Land, Holding Her Money, Woman Declines Lawyer's Advice

An elderly lady hecker needed a young Victoria lawyer during a question period at Liberal candidate P. A. Gibbs' meeting Wednesday night at Oak Bay Junior High School.

The unidentified lady asked if it's "still the Liberal government's policy to confiscate farmers' lands without compensation."

"I had 6.3 acres confiscated for a new road and never got any compensation," she lamented.

Lawyer J. Ronald Grant, chairman of the meeting, jokingly replied:

"I don't want to appear to be trying to drum up business, but I'd suggest you get a lawyer."

Shot back the lady: "Oh no, I've already lost my land. I don't want to lose my money, too."

The question period, dominated by several Socreds in the audience, appeared to be on a "turn-about is fair play" basis.

One questioner, quoting Mr. Gibbs as saying he couldn't support a political theory like the Socreds', which leads to state control of prices and wages, asked:

"Is it not true that the Bank of Canada controls fiscal policy and credit at the present time?"

"That's correct," replied the candidate.

Scored W. A. Scott, who was asked considerably but went ahead undaunted, said he wasn't going to knock "true Liberal propose to do with Mr. Bonner?"

"You're not answering my question," replied Mr. Scott.

An elderly gentleman asked Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, city candidate who was a guest on the platform:

"If the banks don't control financing, how is it I sell an ounce of gold for $38 and they turn around and sell it for $3,800?"

"You don't know the difference between currency and credit," replied Capt. Proudfoot.

"Do you?" shouted a heckler.

"I wonder if we could have only one of you Social Crediters speak at one time," interjected Mr. Grant.

"Why didn't the Liberals reduce car licenses to $10 when they were in office?" asked a man at the back of the hall.

Mr. Gibbs explained that "the economy of the province has expanded so rapidly in the last two years that there is now a wonderful surplus which wasn't available before."

This didn't meet unanimous approval from the audience, but somebody shouted, "Atta boy, Archie."

Mrs. Nancy Hodges expressed a desire to "get into this fight" and said the Liberals would have cut car license fees last year but they were only a caretaker government and passed only essential legislation.

"You were in office 10 years before that. Why didn't you do it then?" insisted the questioner.

"You can't go back 10 years with Social Credit, and you won't be able to go forward 10 years with it either," replied Mrs. Hodges.

Mr. Gibbs, in his final speech of the campaign, challenged his opponent, Mr. Gunderson, to prove that Bill 45 (assessment equalization) exempts personal property from taxation.

"It is useless for the minister to say that Bill 45 is not a personal property tax measure, applicable to you and me, for there is not one word in Bill 45 which

Norway will receive 100,000 tonnes and 20 of the smaller vehicles.

Canada Sends Army Trucks

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will contribute a total of 124 army trucks to four European countries this month under its North Atlantic mutual aid agreement, the army announced Wednesday.

Sharing in the mutual aid donation will be France, The Netherlands, Norway and Belgium. The trucks are of the three-ton and 15 hundredweight variety.

France will get the biggest shipment, 50 of the heavy-duty vehicles. The Netherlands will get 30 and Belgium 20.

Norway will receive 100,000 tonnes and 20 of the smaller vehicles.

Mr. Gibbs, in his final speech of the campaign, challenged his opponent, Mr. Gunderson, to prove that Bill 45 (assessment equalization) exempts personal property from taxation.

"It is useless for the minister to say that Bill 45 is not a personal property tax measure, applicable to you and me, for there is not one word in Bill 45 which

'Dial 'Baltimore 6160' for Harry S. Truman

By CLARENCE A. JOHNSON
KANSAS CITY (AP)—His office telephone is Baltimore 6160, and it's no private, unlisted number. The door to his three-room office suite on the 11th floor of the Federal Reserve Bank building is always open, and there's a "constant stream of people in and out."

As Harry S. Truman, president of the United States, explains it: "Many people feel that a president or an ex-president is partly theirs, and they are right to some extent, and that they have a right to call upon him."

So Harry S. Truman makes himself accessible.

The man who left the White House four months ago is working overtime in his new job as private citizen, putting in as many hours as he did as president.

His mail sometimes runs to 1,000 pieces a day. There is constant traffic through his office. Some are well-wishers. Some want him to make speeches or just put in an appearance at some function. He gives them all a hearing.

He is affable; smiles readily.

but when he says "no" there is no doubt he means it. He's always ready with a joke or a quip. Some of his best anecdotes are off-the-record.

PICTURE OF HEALTH

He looks the picture of health. He moves briskly. He talks the same way. His hair is greying, and receding a bit. For relaxation and recreation, he sticks to walking.

As for a session of poker with the boys:

"I would if I could," he says.

"I just don't have the time for it."

"I'm not commenting on anything in the way of national or international affairs. I want to be as charitable as I can in this period of adjustment for the new administration. I know what it is to be in that situation myself."

But for the 1954 congressional election campaign he is definitely on call.

"I am a Democrat by environment and conviction," he said. "If they want my services I'll be glad to furnish them."

Much time is spent on his memoirs, which won't be published until after the 1954 elections. Although he has not disclosed what Life magazine will pay him, other sources have set the figure at $600,000. Life has sold exclusive newspaper rights to the New York Times and The St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Who's Going to Stop the Yanks?

If the rest of the American League doesn't run for cover now it won't be the fault of New York Yankees.

The other seven clubs have been warned—in the boldest possible terms—that the Yankees are dead serious about winning their fifth straight pennant and woe unto anyone brash enough to oppose them.

This probably isn't the best team ever to wear Yankee livery but it towers over its current opposition to such an extent that even the most ardent Yankee haters would be hard put at the moment to pick another club with a real solid chance of staying on even terms with New York.

The Sox and Cleveland were the pre-season choices to stop the Yankees, if the Yankees could be stopped. The Indians folded at the mere sight of the Bronx Bombers but the White Sox, after losing their first encounter, bounced back to win four in a row from New York—a serious mistake.

When the world champions moved into Chicago Tuesday for a three-game series they were ready to make amends. They did.

Tuesday night they stopped the Sox 4-3. Wednesday they trampled them 18-2 in the biggest rout of the season in either league. Four Chicago pitchers were mauled for 19 hits.

Riding a six-game winning streak and holding a fat 5½-game edge over the runner-up Indians, the Yankees wind up their business in Chicago today and move on to St. Louis for four games.

The Indians slipped another notch back Wednesday night when Boston came up with three runs in the top of the ninth for a 4-3 decision. Philadelphia Athletics whipped the Tigers 10-7, dropping the Tigers 20 games behind New York. Gus Zernial hit two home runs and drove in half of the A's runs. Washington beat St. Louis 3-2 in 10 innings in the other American League game.

Milwaukee made it two straight over Brooklyn on the Dodgers' home grounds 14-9. The victory stretched the Braves' National League lead to 1½ games.

The Phillies split a twilight-night doubleheader with St. Louis Cardinals, winning the second game 6-5 and losing the opener 5-3. New York Giants trounced Cincinnati 11-3 and Pittsburgh moved into sixth place with a 1-0 decision over Chicago.

"... is it a bullet? Is it a jet plane? No! It's me, 'Flash' Foley!"

Odd Fellows Use Yank Strategy

Oddfellows 8, North Kiwanis 4

Taking a tip from the New York Yankees, Odd Fellows of the Little League baseball circuit bided their time and played for big innings Wednesday night.

The strategy proved successful as Odd Fellows scored all their runs in the last three innings to hand North Kiwanis an 8-4 defeat and move into a first-place tie with Gyros.

Kiwanis fell into a cellar tie with Rotary in the close league race. Bob Edwards of Odd Fellows and John Balloch of Kiwanis hooked up in a stirring mound duel with Kiwanis giving Balloch a 2-0 cushion to work on in the first inning.

It stayed that way for three innings until the eventual winners broke the ice for three runs in the fourth on two errors and three hits, added two more runs in the fifth and won it with three in the sixth.

After being touched for the two runs in the first, Edwards settled down and gave up single runs in the fourth and sixth.

LEADING STICKERS
Odd Fellows Barry Williams and Bill White led the hitters, Williams rapping out three doubles and White smacking three singles.

Kiwanis' third sacker Bob Holmes made a neat catch of a short fly ball and converted it into a double play for the fielding gem of the night.

Coast League Attendance Down

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Except at Los Angeles, attendance at Pacific Coast League baseball games is falling behind last year—about 19 per cent.

The PCL office reported Wednesday that total attendance at all 100 games for the first nine weeks was 657,221, a decrease of 154,233 under the 811,454 fans who had attended games the corresponding period last year.

Los Angeles attendance has jumped from 116,938 last year to 153,202. Portland is down from 103,230 to 75,938, and Seattle from 82,245 to 72,115.

Beavers Have 'Find' In Sluggin' Charlie

There's a new star in Portland today by the name of Charlie Grant.

Might even call him Sluggin' Charlie, for against the San Francisco Seals Wednesday night he belted three baseballs out of the park. And thanks to those homers and a timely single by Fletcher Robbe in the 10th, the Beavers took a 6-5 decision from the Seals.

All around the Pacific Coast League most of the pitchers were having more than their share of trouble. All told there were 83 base hits in the four games.

bee from league leading Seattle 8-7, when a Rainier pitcher walked in the winning run in the ninth. That cut Seattle's lead over the Stars to three games. Oakland beat Sacramento 5-1 and Los Angeles made it two in a row over San Diego by a 6-1 count.

At Portland Grant and Jerry Zuvella of San Francisco started out in a home run duel. Zuvella tagged two for round trip rides. They broke even in the RBI department. Charlie hit his trio with the bases empty each time. Jerry hit one with a man on the paths.

This season, Grant, 30, a second baseman, did most of his playing for the national League and San Antonio in the Texas loop.

Fosters Trim Esquimalt

Joe Fosters widened the gap between second and third place in the Senior B Men's Softball League Wednesday night by scoring an 8-3 victory over Esquimalt Athletics at upper Central Park.

Fosters are now a game and a half behind undefeated Tillamook and hold a comfortable 3½-game bulge over Esquimalt. Pitchers Cy Guest of Fosters and Eric Simmons of Esquimalt gave up 10 hits each, but Fosters got the most mileage out of their blows and were aided by three Esquimalt boos.

Simmons gave up four runs in the first inning and two in each of third and sixth. Guest gave up two in the second and one in the fourth, pitching shut out ball for the last five frames. Guest helped himself out by collecting a home run while Gordon Hansen clouted one for the losers.

Tonight, Chinese Students can move from fourth to third

United Prep For Cup Play

Victoria United will begin workouts tonight at Windsor Park at 7 in preparation for the coming first-round Anderson Cup soccer replay with St. Andrews at Macdonald Park, June 13. The two teams previously struggled to a 3-3 tie.

United also has a contest scheduled with New Westminster Royals in the semifinal round of Province Cup play but the date has yet to be announced.

The local Coast League squad will also participate in the Dominion Cup series, with nine other teams now entered, and will play Nanaimo, here in the first round. Date for this contest has yet to be set.

Farmers in Twin Holiday Ball Victory

Smart pitching by Bill Garner and Lowell Hodges and timely hitting by Pete Ash gave Farmer Construction of the Senior Amateur Baseball League two exhibition victories with up-Island teams Tuesday.

The undefeated leaders of the local league blanked a mediocre Cumberland Cubs squad, 9-0, in the first game of a twin bill and then squeaked by the powerful import-bolstered Campbell River Athletics, 4-3, in the second game.

Southpaw Garner twirled a two-hitter against the Cubs while Ash batted in four runs with two doubles.

Lowell Hodges gave up only five hits in the second game as Farmers pulled the fat out of the fire in the bottom of the ninth. Campbell River led 3-2 as Ron Martin opened Farmers' half of the ninth with a walk. He was forced at second by Gerry Parker but Bernie Anderson hit a 300-foot round rule double through the fence to wind Parker home with the tying run. Ash then singled to score Anderson with the run that won the game.

Little Monsters In Second Victory
Little Monsters defeated Sooke, 3-1, in a juvenile girls' Colwood and District Softball League contest Wednesday night to remain undefeated in two games played to date. Nita Wood pitched two-hit ball for the winners.

Monsters won their first game last week by posting a 6-5 verdict, also over Sooke.

In senior C section Brentwood defeated Strathcona Cafe, 6-5.

CANADIANA TO RACE IN U.S. STAKE EVENTS

TORONTO (BUP)—Canadiana, six-length winner of the Coronation Day Queen's Plate, will set out to carve her name in United States stake races.

Owner E. P. Taylor said the filly would be put aboard a train to join some of his other horses at Belmont Park, New York.

Taylor said he would run her in the Gazelle Stakes at Aqueduct track in three weeks, and continue on a tour of other big stakes.

Eddie Arcaio, who was aboard Canadiana when she came within one-fifth of a second of setting a Queen's Plate record, rated her above Calumet Farm's Bubblee, who was number one filly in the United States in 1952.

Roberts 'Almost' In Hubbell Dean Class

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Is Robin Roberts in the same class as a pitcher as Dizzy Dean and Carl Hubbell?

Gus Mancuso, in his day one of the best catchers in the National League, says "almost." Mancuso caught Dean and Hubbell in their prime.

Mancuso, a baseball analyst for a St. Louis radio station, was talking in the Connie Mack Stadium press box Tuesday night after Roberts shut out St. Louis Cardinals 5-0 for his eighth victory of the season.

Gus cited the first inning when the Cards loaded the bases with one out and Roberts, brilliant Philadelphia Phillies right-hander, appeared to be on the ropes. The old warhorse, Enos Slaughter was at bat.

Enos slashed a low liner that Roberts leaned over and grabbed in his gloved hand. He threw to first baseman Earl Torgeson to double Stan Musial off first.

"That's the kind of pitching that makes a guy great," said Mancuso. "Did you see how calm and deliberate he was pitching to Enos? That's why he can't miss being great. That kid is going to be one of the greatest pitchers in baseball. And right now he's almost in a class with the two greatest I ever caught, Carl Hubbell and Dizzy Dean."

Little Monsters In Second Victory

Little Monsters defeated Sooke, 3-1, in a juvenile girls' Colwood and District Softball League contest Wednesday night to remain undefeated in two games played to date. Nita Wood pitched two-hit ball for the winners.

Liberals Will Restore Dignity To B.C. Government Says Laing

Restoration of dignity to B.C.'s Legislature, and an end to "personal abuse and recrimination," was promised Wednesday night by Liberal Leader Arthur Laing in an address to more than 200 persons in Oak Bay Junior High School.

Mr. Laing, expressing confidence his party will win 30 of the 48 seats in the June 9 election, also spoke at Hampton Road Hall and Langford Community Hall in a flying visit to Victoria.

He said Social Credit is "collapsing fast" because it is not founded on "anything solid. Bricks can be made out of straw," he added.

"If everybody is going to be tied up in personal abuse, recriminations and playing the man instead of the ball, nobody can make any contribution to the welfare of the province," said the Liberal leader, who was speaking in support of Oak Bay candidate, Reeve P. A. Gibbs.

PROBLEMS IGNORED

Mr. Laing, describing the current campaign as "somewhat unique," said not enough attention had been paid to issues and problems facing B.C.

He is convinced he'll be the next premier of B.C.

"I don't say that with elation," Mr. Laing said. "I have a very heavy conception of the weight of that job. It would be most capable M.L.A.'s who answered my call for high calibre candidates."

He said the "confusion" in government departments which has reached the point of chaos, will be cleared up immediately.

"I promise an end to this," he said.

The leader said a Liberal government will take action to close the "dangerous and widening rift between labor and management."

"We'll see that the rights of labor are protected," Mr. Laing promised.

The leader, noting the Socialists advocate placing purchasing power in the hands of the people before it goes through the channels of industry, said at least the Socialists propose using "Abbott-style money, not monkey money."

Businessmen, he contended, have more reason to fear the Socialists than the C.P.

Mr. Laing promised protection for the civil servants.

"A frightened employee is no good to anyone," he said.

On B.C.H.S. and the Social changes:

"Any government who makes the poor beggar on a payroll pay up, and let the others get away without paying premiums, is not fit to govern."

Mr. Laing wanted B.C.H.S. to be a "real" health service.

Canadian TB Rate to Fall, Says Official

MONTREAL (CP)—The executive secretary of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association predicted a drop soon in the number of persons in Canada afflicted with tuberculosis.

Dr. G. J. Wherrett of Ottawa, in a report Wednesday to the executive council at the four-day annual meeting of the association, said that although the number of known cases of TB has increased, the death rate has fallen.

"The increased number of cases found does not mean an actual increase in the disease. It is an index of improved, more-efficient facilities for finding cases. I believe that a general fall in mortality figures can be anticipated shortly."

Senate Appointments Expected This Month

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—There will be about 10 Senate vacancies in the 102-member upper house when Prime Minister L. S. St. Laurent goes to the country in what is expected to be an August election.

When the last federal election was called in 1949 there were 14 vacancies unfilled in the Senate.

Just before he dissolves the 21st parliament the prime minister is expected to announce a second group of Senate appointments. They may total seven in number. The announcement may be made about June 12 and the election date officially announced immediately after.

Before going to the Coronation the prime minister announced four Senate appointments including two women. These appointments have left the Senate party standing as follows: Liberals, 75; Progressive Conservatives, eight; Vacancies, 19. The present vacancies are as follows: Five in Ontario; six in Quebec, four in New Brunswick and one each in Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Manitoba and British Columbia. The policy of leaving about 10 vacancies in the Senate when the election is called makes it possible, in the event of the government being defeated, for the incoming administration to appoint 10 Senators. This in itself constitutes a certain degree of Senate reform as it gives the party in power, should the government change hands, an opportunity to name Senators of its own political leanings.

Seattle Doctor's Body Discovered On Shore of Lake

SEATTLE (AP)—The body of Dr. Norman S. Green, 40, was found Wednesday near the shore of Lake Sammamish, east of Seattle, and police said the physician had taken his own life.

Dr. Green, who moved here recently from Cincinnati, failed to reach his home Monday afternoon after leaving a hospital. Two of his four children, twins Jim and Bob Green, still were waiting "until daddy comes home" to celebrate their seventh birthday when the body was located.

Free CBC Time for 66-Candidate Federal Parties

OTTAWA (CP)—All four national political parties are virtually assured of free-time electioneering privileges on CBC networks in the next general election campaign under regulations announced Wednesday by the CBC board of governors. The board's main stipulation is that the national parties—which include the Liberals, Progresssive Conservatives, CCF and Social Credit—nominate at least 36 official candidates spread across at least three provinces. National parties with no representation in the Commons may also get some free-time political broadcasting privileges if they meet the 66-candidate regulation, the board said. This might leave the way open for such parties as the Labor Progressive (Communist) group to invade the networks, but the board did not name this party specifically. In addition, the board said it will allot free time to new national political parties "to bring the listeners an adequate presentation of the party's program and policies."

The time to be allocated to new parties "will be over and above the amount given to the existing national political parties." "The privilege of free network time for political broadcasting will be granted to bona fide parties which are national in extent and which reflect a substantial body of opinion throughout the country," the board said. It was impossible to lay down an exact definition of a national party, the board added.

Military officers acting as ushers at the Westminster Abbey Coronation are known as "gold staff officers."

In Africa the first intimation of the king's death was given to the Princess's staff by a local newspaper reporter. Lieutenant-Colonel Martin Charteris, the Princess's private secretary, hardly crediting the news, sought confirmation from London.

It was the Duke of Edinburgh who gently told his unsuspecting wife the news of her father's death and that she was now Queen of England.

When she first understood what he was saying, she wept, but, said Lieutenant Colonel Charteris, she took the news "bravely, like a Queen."

It was the first time in history that a British monarch had acceded to the throne in Africa.

At once the new Queen gave orders to return and through streets lined with rows of silent, sorrowing Africans she drove to her airplane. But—so typical of her—before she left she did not forget to give her personal thanks to every person, white or colored, who had attended her during her stay.

So began the Atlanta's 4,444-mile return flight, to Britain and

Proclamation Heard Round World

On the morning of the coronation of Queen Elizabeth the Second, Head of the Commonwealth, took place in London and throughout the Commonwealth with all its rich traditional ceremony.

Then the Queen drove to Sandringham to meet her mother and to take her last sight of the father who for 25 years she had so dearly loved. Before she left London Queen Elizabeth made her accession declaration and, in a clear, firm voice, the new Queen said:

"By the sudden death of my dear father I am called to assume the duties and responsibilities of sovereignty . . . the grief which his loss brings us is shared among us all.

"My heart is too full for me to say more to you today than that I shall always work, as my father did throughout his reign . . . to advance the happiness and prosperity of my people, spread as they are all the world over.

"I know that in my resolve to follow his shining example of service and devotion I shall be inspired by the loyalty and affection of those whose Queen I have been called upon to be. I pray that God will help me to discharge worthily the heavy task that has been laid upon me so early in my life."

When the Queen was a little child there was one diminutive name by which her father loved to call her. And on the all-white wreath which lay on his coffin in the church at Sandringham, was the inscription:

DARLING PAPA—FROM LILIBET

Queen Elizabeth was the first of her line to be proclaimed Head of the Commonwealth.

Millions of people of many races and colors are bound not only to her but also to one another by their common allegiance. This allegiance is dependent on many factors, including mutual assistance and defense; but the one factor that gives meaning to all the rest is the affection in which the Throne is held.

When the world was stunned by the shock of her father's sudden death, Princess Eliza-

New Car Sales Top B.C. Trade Statistics

British Columbians are busy, to unsettled labor and market fast clip.

The department of trade and industry reports car sales in B.C. are up 18.4 per cent in the first quarter of 1953.

It is the only major field where a sizeable sales gain is recorded. Trade and Industry Minister Ralph Chetwynd said.

The department's economic survey shows employment is down in the logging, fishing and mining industries "owing Vancouver."

But employment in sawmills and shipyards is higher than last year.

The report said the total value of exports through B.C. customs ports for the first four months of 1953 are 18 per cent below the corresponding period last year.

Officials said a major part of this drop may be attributed to the grain shipping strike in B.C.

H. Arke, freight traffic manager, CPR Pacific and Pacific regions, and G. N. McMillan, general freight agent, CNR western lines, will travel from Winnipeg to discuss freight rate inequities with Victoria shippers Tuesday at 9:30 a.m.

The conference with chief shippers and consignees was arranged by Victoria Chamber of Commerce. It is an outgrowth of a Board of Transport Commissioners' suggestion, during the freight rate inquiry here March 17, that obvious inequities in the rate structure should be discussed with the shippers by the railways.

Chamber of Commerce freight rates committee met this forenoon under the chairmanship of Fred W. Hawes to plan the presentation to be made to the railway officials next Tuesday.

Oil Self-Sufficiency Brought Ever Closer

Alberta's oil and natural gas industry continues to move Canada closer to the day of self-sufficiency in petroleum products.

Crude oil production in the foothills province during 1952 was 58,915,223 barrels, a new record. Last year's yield of natural gas also set a new mark.

At the end of January, 1953, there were 3,378 oil wells in Alberta and 138 drilling rigs were operating. During 1952 916 new oil discoveries were made and 38 gasers brought in.

Alberta's crude oil reserves are unofficially estimated to be between 1,250,000,000 and 1,500,000,000 barrels. Estimated reserves in the Redwater field are 750,000,000 barrels. Potential of Leduc-Woodhead is placed at more than 275,000,000 barrels. Wapiti Lake reserves are calculated to be 100,000 barrels.

BUSINESS WORLD NEWS POTPOURRI

Bank clearings in Victoria gained $1,439,888 in May, compared to the corresponding month of 1952. Last month's bank clearings were $1,439,888.

Newspaper advertising keeps retail business alive, J. C. Penney, department store magnate, told Inland Daily Press Association in Chicago. Mr. Penney said his chain of 1,632 shops in the U.S. spends "the bulk of our advertising dollars in newspapers."

T. O. Peterson, president and general manager of Investors Syndicate of Canada Ltd., believes 1953 will be "another year of high prosperity in Canada."

He says: "Employment, salaries and wages are at a new peak. Personal income taxes have been reduced. Inflationary tendencies appear to have been checked, at least for the present, and the economy has been reinvigorated by the removal of virtually all controls on credit and materials."

The year 1953, stimulated by the defense program and the continued development of natural resources, promises to be still another year of high prosperity.

Newfoundland recently enacted legislation ordering a five-day week for retail shops and a 44-hour week for employees. Shops must be closed each Monday during July and August. During rest of year the closure can be on any other day of the week by agreement between employer and employees. Night-selling on Saturdays is permitted during July and August, and in other months by agreement.

Fifteen purchasing agents from Vancouver will fly here Friday to attend the installation of officers of Vancouver Island branch, Purchasing Agents' Association of B.C. Jack O'range will preside at the installation ceremony which will be held at the Victoria Hotel.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Almost anyone who read the paper yesterday would be able to forecast the general tenor of Between Times today. Because, in yesterday's paper, there appeared this headline:

LOOSE DOGS WORRY CITY PARKS CHIEF

My first reaction was to wonder, if his dogs are that loose, why the Parks Chief doesn't tighten his shoe-laces. But then I read the news item under the heading, and I quickly hid the paper where Punch couldn't get at it.

It turns out what the Parks Chief is worrying about is not dogs who are insecurely attached, or are reprehensible in a moral way, but dogs who roam at large in the city. In fact, the Parks Chief told the city council "the time is fast approaching when no dog should be allowed to run at large in a public place under any condition."

I might note in passing that Punch never runs under any condition. When the anti-aircraft firing practice is too loud, though, he has been known to run under any piece of furniture handy).

However, to get back to the subject at hand, namely dogs roaming at large in the city.

There seems to be some confusion about dogs roaming. "Roaming" means going from place to place with no certain purpose.

Dogs do not go from place to place without a certain purpose.

Also, dogs believe, when in Roam, do as the Romans do.

In the news item which started all this (if you are still with me) the Parks Chief was quoted as saying: "Dogs... should not be allowed to run loose."

This seems to me a violation of our democratic principles.

Dogs should have the prerogative of running loose, or not, as they please.

If the voters do not wish to vote for Loose, they can remove it at the polls.

I find, on reading back over the news item, I have an entirely erroneous impression of what went on at the council meeting.

The general idea appears to be, the council feels dogs should be confined to their owners' property, and not permitted to bother the neighbors.

I am heartily in favor of this idea. Almost any dog is a source of joy and pride to his owner, but can be a nuisance if not properly trained.

By all means, let dog owners explain to their dogs that they must not dash about on the neighbors' flower beds, or in any way interfere with the neighbors.

But, if the city council is to bring in legislation to this effect, let them also pass a law preventing cats from singing love songs under my bedroom window.

(I will now stand well back and start dodging).

Monthly meeting of the Canadian National Railway Veterans' Association will be held Friday at 2 p.m. in the Knights of Pythias Hall. This will be the last meeting until September due to summer recess.

City public works committee backed the view of city engineer Cyril Jones and traffic engineer Robert Doble today that there should be no car parking places set aside for tourists here.

The University School Cadet Corps with armed color guards and a band will officiate at the initial flag lowering ceremony.

Altogether 10 uniformed units will participate in the 15-minute ceremony which will be conducted each night until June 30, except Sundays.

RCMP and a police motorcycle escort will assist in each display.

The troops will assemble in front of the provincial museum, march down Government Street to Belleville, saluting the cenotaph in passing. Following the ceremony they will march down Government to Wharf and break off near the Black Ball Ferry terminal.

A meeting to discuss revision of Victoria's freight rates will be held Tuesday morning at 9:30 in the Chamber of Commerce board room. City Council was advised today.

Thomas Lancaster, 18, of 710 Wilson, and Stanley Christensen, 22, of 1303 Gladstone, charged jointly with shopbreaking with intent to commit theft, changed their election for summary trial when they appeared today in city police court.

When they appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall Wednesday in the same court, they elected for a preliminary hearing before him, and a trial in a higher court.

They are alleged to have broken into the High School Coffee Shop, 1303 Gladstone during the early morning hours of June 2. They were apprehended by Constable Allister Boyd.

Army of Shriners Will Celebrate Order's Golden Anniversary Here

Gizeh Temple of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine came into being in the city of Victoria 50 years ago.

And for the Golden Anniversary ceremonies of this temple, which embraces British Columbia and the Yukon Territory, Victoria will play host to over 4,000 Shriners.

The location for the Golden Anniversary was thus a deliberate and appropriate choice.

Annual reports of Past Potentates L. Harry Rawlings, Walter Luney and George I. Warren are among important documents in the history of the Temple which have been searched by the committee in charge of the celebrations to revive information of particular interest at this time.

They show the first ceremonial session of Gizeh Temple was held in Victoria on Dec. 11, 1902.

Twenty-three Novices were received and escorted across the "hot sands."

Census of the visitors, of whom there were a great number, was that the session was a great success.

Since then ceremonials have been held in various cities throughout the province, Prince Rupert, Vernon, Trail, Nelson, Penticton, Cranbrook and Vancouver.

A Temple Building was built in Victoria in 1929 during the term of Potentate W. Luney.

In 1942, it was agreed that Temple headquarters be moved to Vancouver, but the Gizeh Temple band continues to have its headquarters here.

More than 30 Nobles in the band have been playing as a unit for more than 20 years.

In addition to the Victoria Shrine Club of Gizeh Temple there are others in the province at Nelson, Prince Rupert, Trail-Rossland, East Kootenay (Granbrook), Upper Vancouver Island (Courtenay), Kamloops, Okanagan, New Westminster, Nanaimo, Upper Fraser Valley (Chilliwack), North Shore, and Alberni-Parksville.

The wider Shrine organization in North America was born at a private ceremony sponsored by the Arabian Consul in France in 1871.

Before that the Shrine goes to a dim uncertain past.

Noble George L. Root records "The Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine was instituted by the Mohammedan Kalif Aber, general cousin and son-in-law of the Prophet Mohammed at Mecca in Arabia in A.D. 644."

As far as North America is concerned, however, the first records spring from the Arabian consul's ceremony in Marseilles.

William J. Florence, a distinguished American actor, was inspired by the pagantry and Oriental splendor of the ceremony. He sent notes of it to Walter N. Fleming, eminent physician, civil war veteran, 33rd degree Mason and Knight Templar.

From these Fleming contrived a ritual and with Florence and 11 masonic friends launched a new fraternal order composed of Knights Templar and 32nd degree Scottish rite masons.

The shrine of North America has expanded to 165 temples with a total membership of 700,000 nobles in Canada, Mexico, Hawaii, the Canal Zone, every state in the union and the District of Columbia.

Eli Salaam Aleikum (peace be with you) is the greeting. Official headgear is the red fez.

The insignia consists of the scimitar and crescent. "The shrine has gradually become the humanizing agency of masonry seeking to keep alive in men the spirit of youth," a Shrine historian writes.

Shriners to the Rescue

Both legs broken, Linda is due for a happy break.

GIRLS TO DRILL FOR SHRINERS

Visiting Shriners will be treated to a special display by the Victoria Girls Drill Team, Friday night, 6:30 p.m., on the Parliament Buildings lawn.

The gesture was planned by the Vancouver Island Publicity Bureau as a welcome to the huge convention.

Shriners leave for England next Wednesday for a four-day engagement at the city's Rodeo Arena.

COMEDIAN DONKEY

Shriners To Provide Fun, Games

The golden anniversary ceremonies of Gizeh Temple, AAOONS, will be solemn and significant.

But there will be plenty of room for exuberant spirits to enjoy themselves—and many laughs for bystanders.

From Kellogg, Idaho, comes a mounted patrol, riding trained jackasses.

The star of the troupe is a donkey with a sense of humor, who has a bag of tricks which would be the envy of any circus clown.

Another mounted patrol is from Nile Temple, Seattle, and is regarded as one of the most skilled patrols in the huge Shrine organization. Mounts in this case are beautiful Palominos, precision trained.

Both mounted patrols will appear in the big Shrine parade Saturday afternoon. The comedian donkey, wearing rubber shoes, will perform at a pageant at the Memorial Arena Friday night.

The little legs with the dimpled knees look saddened by the weight of 20 pounds of plaster casts. And Linda looks saddened at the prospect of being indoors, sitting still, for another month.

Not quite motionless, she can "bump" across the floor on her bottom, she says.

"And they don't hurt anymore," she smiles.

Linda had been at Beacon Hill Park with mom and dad, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lewis, and with baby brother "Butchy," 2½.

Dad was giving her a ride on the swing when she slipped off and her legs were snapped underneath.

Although she is taking her troubles with a grin now, she was greatly disappointed at missing the Coronation parade, and wishes "to beat the band" she could see the Shriners on display Saturday.

The Shriners heard about Linda... and the Shriners love children. They have built hospitals for kiddies all over the continent. They are convening here this week-end.

Through them, Linda is going to get a surprise Friday she'll never forget. In their brilliant fezzes and fairy-tale costumes, with their shining brass horns and booming drums, they are going to pay court to Linda.

They will stage a special show beneath her bedroom window.

Chances are Linda's going to be the happiest little girl in town.

The council, however, made no offer to adjust some of the wages of specialized workers which is one of the main issues in the present dispute. The union claims some of wages paid to municipal employees are "all out of line."

If the union should reject the new wage offer a new series of wage talks will have to take place between the association and the council. This would prolong the strike for at least another week.

There are 254 Sea Cadets at present, 130 in the junior corps, 124 in the seniors. Commanding officers are Lieut. Cmdr. A. Dando (seniors) and Lieut. Gerry Bishop (juniors). RCN provides equipment and training program. The Navy League headquarters and upkeep.

There will be prizes, games, naval exhibits, dancing by the pupils of Miss Velda Wille. There will be puppet shows, square dancing, a "gold rush" amusements and pony rides for the children, and a display by the Chinese Girls' Drill Team.

A superfluous sale and refreshment booths will be operated by the Women's Auxiliary to the Navy League.

The sponsoring committee is headed by Denis Brown, Ron Clayton, Mrs. J. E. Pettie and Mrs. Julia Jones.

Others on the committee include George Nation, tickets; William McCarter, building and grounds; Griffith Jones, games; Paul Henderson, program; Gordon Schenck, prizes; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fecteau, finance.

There will be a talk by City Manager Cecil Wyatt to the annual conference of the Municipal Officers' Association of B.C. at the Empress Hotel, June 11 and 12.

M. Frank Hunter, city clerk, will introduce Ald. Frank Muller, who will give the address of welcome on behalf of the city.

He said he had paid his debt to society and is confident the people of the province will "place Christian principles before political expediency."

Mr. Perdure said he came to British Columbia from Ontario 25 years ago, had difficulty getting a job, and "foolishly" used a licence obtained from a friend for a job for which he was qualified but unlicensed.

He said: "I received $50 in advance as expense money for the position, and proceeded to buy clothing and other items necessary to undertaking the job. But before I could start work it was found out that the licence was not mine and I was charged with obtaining $50 under false pretences."

"Because I did not have the money to return, I was sentenced, but later I was unconditionally released without having served my full term. This was 25 years ago and I have paid my debt to society."

Meanwhile, Mr. Kemp had an explanation for the allegation he had sought a Sacred candidacy.

"Sure I asked if I could be a candidate," he said. "But that was before I knew the party had a bunch of fascists in it."

About a letter concerning the medical appeal board, he said: "Stan Wilcox (SC in Vancouver East) asked me to help him. I said I would if the party would get busy and appoint the board. Then I'd appreciate the party's sincerity. Otherwise, if they didn't appoint the appeal board, I was going to fight them. I wrote Bennett and told him so."

1,500 U.S. Scouts Plan Visit on Way to Jamboree

More than 1,500 American Scouts will make side trips preparing to leave July 14 for the Canadian Jamboree at Otawa, Ontario, in California.

Arriving here in three groups, they will be hosted during their five-hour stopover by Victoria Boy Scouts.

First to arrive will be a group of 450 from Bangor, Nebraska. They will arrive at 12:50 p.m. July 10 and will muster in front of the Parliament Buildings where they will be welcomed by Mayor C. L. Harrison and government officials.

From there they will march to Beacon Hill Park for a box lunch before boarding buses for sight-seeing tours. They will depart at 5:30 p.m.

The following day another 325 boys will arrive from Valley Forge, Pennsylvania and on the 13th 500 will come from New York and New Jersey areas and another 300 from Minneapolis.

Scout officials expect that the same welcoming routine will be followed in each case. On hand to extend a special Scout left-hand shake will be

Q—I hear we are to have duplicate bridge in Victoria. What is duplicate bridge?—E. W.

A—One of the most prominent players in this city explains it thus: It is the same as contract bridge, but in it all couples play the same hands during the same night's play. It is considered the supreme test of skill among card games.

Q—How did the custom of referring to the U.S. as "Brother Jonathan," perhaps more common a generation or so ago than now, originate?—G. L. C.

J. Forrester-Paton, left, world "Y" president, compares notes with F. V. Shoemaker, Victoria.

End of International Barriers Described as 'Y' World Aim

BY DON INGHAM

A genial Scot who arrived here today takes considerable pride in being president of the world's oldest international organization, with headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland.

He is John Forrester-Paton of Alloa, Scotland, president of the World Alliance of the Young Men's Christian Association, representing 4,000,000 members in 10,000 individual "Y's" in 76 affiliated national movements.

"Although we have 'been in business' for 98 years, our tasks are bigger than ever," he said at the Empress Hotel today during a visit with F. V. Shoemaker, general secretary of the YMCA here.

"We must live up to the teachings of Christ and break down the international barriers that always seem to be with us," Mr. Forrester-Paton said. "We have branches in Malaya and Indonesia, for instance, that badly need all the help we can give them."

Another trouble spot is in the Near East, he said, where close to three-quarters of a million Arabs are living in refugee camps and waiting only for a chance to return to Palestine.

"They won't do that without another war," he said.

Sparse reports from China indicate the "Y" still functions there, he said, "but it must be limited in scope. The Communists demand absolute control of youth."

On the brighter side of YMCA activity is anticipation of its centennial in Paris in 1955.

"President Vincent Auriol is taking an active part in arrangements," he said, "and our American friends can be counted on to do a masterly job of organization. There will be close to 12,000 people from all 76 national bodies present."

Another little spark that is beginning to glow brightly is in Ethiopia, where Emperor Haile Selassie has given the "Y" an excellent site for a new building.

"He even laid the cornerstone," Mr. Forrester-Paton said.

The world president, member of a Scottish woolen firm with international connections, has been in "Y" work for close to 30 years. He came to Victoria via West Africa, Tasmania, and the Philippines, and after a visit in Vancouver will return home.

Here are a few more quotations from famous physicians. These are from papers which were given at the first western hemisphere conference of the World Medical Association which met in Richmond, Virginia. These highlights may be important to you individually.

Dr. Charles Huggins, professor of urology at the University of Chicago School of Medicine, said "cancer of the breast in women in the United States has the highest prevalence rate of any form of neoplastic disease in either sex. The estimated over-all frequency rate is about 11.9 per 1,000 patients. The peak incidence of the disease is reached in the age group from 46 to 48 years and about one-third of the cases occur between 45 and 55 years."

Does that mean anything to you? It does to me. It means that a woman is wise to have periodic medical examinations of her breast, especially when she is in the age bracket in which this killer is most active. Between the ages 45 and 55 it is fine preventive medicine to have these examinations every few months. This is not neurotic. It is just good sense. Many women who have physical checkups have no breast examination at all.

While these examinations will not insure you against cancer, they certainly reduce the percentage of chance that you will have cancer which is not recognized until too late.

It is absolutely impossible for a woman herself to know whether any thickening she may notice is congestion in a gland or a small lump. Early diagnosis is essential in cancer. Don't neglect yourself.

Do not ignore pain or unusual symptoms. See your physician.

St. John Volunteers Help Sick, Crippled

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

Covering Greater Victoria, wherever a call for their help is raised, go 10 volunteer drivers of No. 319, G. H. Stevens Nursing Division (Mobile), St. John Ambulance Brigade.

Equipped with full knowledge of first-aid and home nursing, plus two months' mechanical training and a long and unblemished driving experience, each driver spends several hours every week piloting the bulky grey vehicle emblazoned with the insignia of the brigade over all kinds of roads in all kinds of weather.

Their mission is the safe transporting of sick and crippled to and from hospitals, treatment and recreation centres. The ambulance is equipped and kept in constant readiness for emergency, as well as for the regular service which keeps it on the road four and five days a week.

For some time it was used to transport blind persons, though this is not so necessary now that the blind centre is established and more private cars are available. Cerebral palsy victims have been the particular care of the mobile division for the last five months.

Recently, I had the opportunity of seeing a practical workmanlike way by this handful of women. I rode with the ambulance on an afternoon's round, when we collected little palsy victims and a police case, conveyed them to their clinics and took them home again.

The whole operation was carried out in an atmosphere of cheerful kindness and the camaraderie existing between the women of St. John and mothers of youngsters was noticeable. We visited widely separated homes in far-flung areas, starting out at 1:30 and chalking up "mission concluded" around 5. The driver on this occasion was Mrs. Myrtle Ritchie and with her was Mrs. Eva Rogers, superintendent of the Victoria Nursing Corps. All missions are undertaken by teams of two. At the end of the afternoon, it amused me somewhat to find concern expressed for my tiredness when all I had done was sit and look on. It struck me as typical of the selfless attitude of these women.

Firemen are now taking some of the responsibility for the palsy cases and will do most of the transporting of these in future. But there are many others who will no doubt gladly avail themselves of the St. John Ambulance service. Mrs. Rogers speaks with concern of arthritis in the future.

Mrs. Phyllis Duffton, an ambulance driver overseas during the war, is superintendent of the mobile unit. Drivers, besides Mrs. Ritchie, are Mrs. Margaret Galley, Mrs. Ida Legg, Mrs. John McKeown, Mrs. Winifred Underwood, Mrs. Moira Hale, Mrs. Margaret

Mrs. W. Underwood and Mrs. M. Ritchie (back to camera) lift a small patient into the ambulance while Mrs. M. Bone, driver, looks on. At least one of the women is almost sure to be hiding some toy or candy with which to while away the journey for the youngster, who is on her way to cerebral palsy clinic at Royal Jubilee Hospital, where she will undergo treatment.

Mrs. Miss K. Corker, Miss Margaret McCurrah and Miss Christine Clark.

AS WE LIVE

Girl Fears Settling as Bride 300 Miles Away

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

A person shuns responsibilities because he is afraid he cannot carry them out successfully. That is back of the broken engagement of the man who writes as follows:

(Q)—"During the Thanksgiving holiday last year I visited in a city 300 miles from where I live. There I met a young lady of 24 and we became good friends. I spent two weeks there at Christmas and we became engaged. She works but lives with her widowed mother and brother. We planned to be married this month but after she came to my community to house-hunt, she told me she was breaking our engagement. I saw her every other week-end before this happened and we got along beautifully. Perhaps we rushed into our engagement too fast but I believe the thought of a new life in a new town, away from family and friends, the house-hunting, wedding plans, and an objecting mother were too much for her. Should I try to start anew with her or just give her up?"

(A)—If you are seriously in love with this girl, you will make no decision about the next step until you see her and talk things over with her. Find out just what was back of the sudden change of her plans.

I think you will find that she is afraid of the responsibilities of marriage and that this has overshadowed her love for you. It is a big break in the pattern of her life to marry and move so far from her home and ties.

The fact that she was uncertain about her willingness to make this break has doubtless been fastened upon her by her mother as a means of keeping her daughter nearer home. Find out what the mother's objections to you are and then see if you can overcome them.

If you are convinced, after talking to your former fiancée, that the situation is hopeless, there is nothing further to be gained by waiting and hoping. Go home and start afresh.

Next time look for a wife nearer home. Many young women hesitate to pull up roots, even for a man they love, and this leads to trouble before and after marriage.

Elizabeth Hurlock is one of the nation's best psychologists and she will gladly help you with personal problems.

Canned Pork Meat Is Economical

During the embargo on the export of Canadian pork in 1952 the Canadian government inspected plants. Like other well processed products it may be kept unopened in the can for long periods.

"Double-woven" fabrics are considered the best-wearing in gloves. Both sides of the cloth appear the same and of double thickness.

Consumers who purchase this meat will obtain a first-class product that makes a most economical meal. Marketing of the canned pork is being stepped-up to coincide with the warm weather when it may be used to advantage in salads, picnic lunches and sandwiches. It can also be baked, fried or broiled, or served with macaroni, vegetables or rice, in hors d'oeuvres, and in many other ways.

Canadian canned pork meat has been prepared from good Canadian bacon hogs under the same strict conditions that apply to all other Canadian meat products made in government.

Test the dye of a dark-colored slip by rubbing it with a handkerchief. The handkerchief should not be stained.

Wash flower vases daily to keep cut flowers fresh longer. Use hot soapsuds followed by a hot rinse.

Examine buttonholes as a mark of quality in a garment. Good ones are cut with the threads of the cloth and, in hand-made ones, are worked on both sides. Stitches should be deep enough for the character of the cloth.

Did you ever try spreading the sections of bake-and-eat packaged rolls with a sandwich filling before baking? They're perfectly delicious and ideal to serve with a combination vegetable or fruit salad. Mix equal parts of ready-chopped California ripe olives with grated cheese and enough mayonnaise for blending. Spread the mixture between the sections of the rolls and bake as directed.

ENGLAND'S SONGSTRESS SINGS WHILE POLITICIANS FLUTTER

While hopeful politicians are sitting home nervously twiddling their thumbs and when polling day excitement reaches its peak on election eve Monday, another sort of fervor will engulf a crowd in the Memorial Arena.

England's queen of comedy, Gracie Fields, will appear for a one-night stand.

Appearing last in Victoria in 1950, Miss Fields had scheduled another program for 1952, cancelled at the last minute.

In a 1940 Vancouver appearance, Gracie drew a crowd of 15,000 and had full houses in three Victoria appearances. Under the auspices of the Victoria YMCA Y's Men's Club, her present show is expected to be a sell-out. Tickets are on sale at Eaton's Music Centre.

TALENT PACKS ARENA

Young Singer Wins Spot in Heidt Show

Two Victorians earned a chance to win fame in the entertainment world, and 3,200 enjoyed two and one-half hours of brilliant showmanship as the Horace Heidt troupe played a one-night stand at Memorial Arena Wednesday evening.

Mimi Bavin, youthful soprano, who is a student at Esquimalt High School, was judged winner in the talent contest, and will join the Horace Heidt radio show in the near future; and Gordon Letnes played his harmonica to take second place—and a promise of an early appearance with the troupe.

Both Miss Bavin and Mr. Letnes showed a sparkling promise of future success. But the main body of the Heidt show, brilliantly produced, fast moving, perfectly timed, kept the capacity audience in the arena in a continual state of excitement.

Heidt, who is a master showman, headed a line-up of talented performers who were drilled and rehearsed to a fine edge of perfection.

Johnny Standley, whose "In the Book" record has sold over 2,000,000 copies, was welcomed back as an old friend by those in the audience who first heard him here 18 months ago. His smash hit, "A first-timer in Victoria came as close to stealing the show as was possible in a talent-studded troupe. He was Dick Kerr, on leave from the U.S. Air Force, a young man with an unbelievable set of vocal chords, a naive routine, and imitations of famous vocalists which were masterpieces of comic mimicry.

From "Satchmo" Armstrong to Johnnie Laine and Frankie Ray, he utilized a keen ear, his incredible voice, and an outstanding sense of the ridiculous to stampede the audience into the warmest applause heard here in many years.

There were too many artists of outstanding merit to list; and each benefited from the superb production and direction of a master showman.

DAVENPORT, Ia. (UP)—Ignace Stachel, 45, a displaced person from Germany, hunted for a place to sleep Wednesday night after the police tossed him out of his cell in the city jail.

Officers who fell for Stachel's story that he was broke, ousted him from the jail when they found $1.023 in his wallet.

MANUFACTURED IN OTTAWA
Everest Conquerors Use Canadian Sleeping Bags

OTTAWA (CP)—A Canadian sleeping bag designed to beat the Arctic cold was part of the equipment of the British team that conquered Mount Everest last week.

The bag, an elaborate affair of overlapping zippers and down-filled nylon, was designed by Fred van Veen, 44, of Ottawa.

The lightweight bag—only 8½ pounds—was tested on the world's highest mountain in 1951 and 1952 by Everest reconnaissance expeditions under Eric Shipton. For this year's successful climb, the British team under Col. John Hunt ordered 12 of the bags from the Ottawa firm which manufactures them.

D. W. Buchanan of the National Gallery's industrial design division said the sleeping bag had apparently overcome one of the main problems of Everest climbers—exhaustion from the biting cold at night.

For the last two years the bag has been standard equipment for the RCAF's Arctic pilots, tucked into their Arctic survival kits with emergency food and other equipment.

It can stand off temperatures as low as 50 degrees below zero with its double covering—the outer of nylon and the inner of wool. The nylon keeps out wind and rain and ducks' down filling keeps in the warmth. Overlapping zippers can be closed from inside or outside and the sleeper can put the parka hood in place without putting his arms out in the cold. It even turns up at the toes for greater foot room.

However, it's not quite the ticket for a casual fishing or hunting trip—the retail cost is $115.

IWA Interior Locals to Decide Contract Terms

VANCOUVER (CP)—Terms of a contract affecting 3,000 interior lumber workers probably will be similar to those asked this year by CIO International Woodworkers in negotiations with the American Lumber Association.

Demands of the Interior group were lined up at a week-end conference of IWA locals in Kamloops and will now go before the union policy committee, an official said today.

On the Coast, IWA is seeking a 15-cent hourly increase for its 32,000 members over the current $1.46. IWA men from Prince George, Kamloops, Cranbrook and Kelowna attended the Interior conference.

Liberal Campaigner Re-Confesses Joining CCF When Young, Foolish

George Whittaker, Duncan logging operator currently campaigning for the Liberal party, repeated at a Langford meeting Wednesday night that he was once an active member of the CCF. He was appearing on behalf of Geoffrey Edgelow.

Last Saturday Harold Thayer, secretary of the B.C. Yukon CCF, issued a formal announcement saying his party had no record of Mr. Whittaker ever being a member, and objecting to people "maliciously using the name of our party by claiming to have once held membership."

Mr. Whittaker showed a CCF membership card, purporting to be for the year 1944.

"I belonged to the CCF when I was very young and foolish and inexperienced," he said. "I perverted a lot of young people to Socialistic ideas; did a lot of harm to them and to the country."

He said he withdrew from the party after finding "all this poppycock about Socialism and class struggle didn't fit in with the facts of life."

The younger Thomas asked Mr. Whittaker to tell how Saskatchewan and B.C. compared on per capita investment and per capita income. Mr. Whittaker said he didn't know. "Would you like to know?" asked young Thomas.

Saskatchewan, Mr. Thomas continued, stood second among Canadian provinces in respect to per capita income and fourth in respect to per capita investment, and was, in both instances, ahead of B.C.

Mr. Edgelow pointed out a recent redistribution of seats in the federal House reduced Saskatchewan's representation by three and increased B.C.'s by four.

SASKATCHEWAN SLIPPING
"That shows," the candidate submitted, "that British Columbia has been going ahead while Saskatchewan has been slipping."

Dr. Thomas jumped to his feet to protest: "The population of Saskatchewan decreased prior to the year the CCF took office; not since. That's fact."

Chairman Cliff Kirkham pulled the reins on proceedings.

Thomas questions. The chairman ordered all questions be directed to persons on the platform.

It was not long after that Mr. Laing arrived.

He talked until almost 11 when he said: "I'm getting tired and you should be getting tired, too."

There were no more questions.

CLUES ACROSS

4 SLASH is best. "Valuable old" suggests a painting or carving. Although you can SMASH the glass of frame, SLASH is the picture itself is a canvas which you do not SMASH. SLASH is more apt.

6 BLAND is best. Since BLANK is a blank expression, BLAND is a contradiction in terms and is not strictly correct. BLAND is satisfactory.

11 COB is correct. The clue says "young and tasty." A COB is a young potato. A COB is not necessarily young at all.

12 SKILL is best since the actual SKILL has no bearing on our intelligence.

14 AXES is best. It needs to be handled with a certain amount of care. "Certain amount" hardly means a great amount of care.

16 GRIM is best. GRIM is defined as "formal, demure"; thus, a woman cannot wear gaudy clothes and still be GRIM. A GRIM, stern woman is hardly the sort to wear such clothes. GRIM is not as good.

22 PLAYED is best because a shot might be well PLACED by accident.

CLUES DOWN

1 is not a normal part of modern dress, "old-fashioned" is superfluous for CLOAK.

4 STROKE is best. Stimulating a wild animal favors STROKE, since it would be inviting trouble to STROKE even a tame animal.

10 PLATS is best. Speaking of blending colors implies a color scheme, as found in PLATS. The mixture of colors in PLATS are chosen for reasons other than the attractiveness with which they blend.

12 SHAVE is best. Anubas, hairs, having to SHAVE, but it is obligatory MEN who have to SHAVE.

15 YIELD is best. A farmer has no particular reason to take pride in the mere YIELD of his field. A large YIELD is reasonable cause for pride.

17 RINGS is best. Loose RINGS should certainly be fixed. There are many varieties of RINGS, some of which are meant to be loose.

18 MOODS is best. The word MOODS has a particular application in the world of fashion, and is very strong answer indeed. If we interpret MOODS as a "girl who models dresses," she may have no interest in her personality.

20 MUD is best. In the garden, any size of BUD might sometimes need to be removed, not caring for a "little" mud. A little MUD might be removed, whereas a whole lot of MUD probably wouldn't be.

Police Drag Quebec Lake for 3 Bodies

VICTORIAVILLE, Quebec (UPI)—Police today dragged Lake Avimer, near here, for the bodies of a farmer, his son and a family friend who were believed to have drowned while fishing on Coronation Day.

Police said John Nault, 35; his 12-year-old son, Benoit, and Robert St. Hilaire, 23, were last seen Tuesday clinging to their overturned rowboat in the middle of the lake.

Residents said that when rescue boats reached the spot they had vanished. The boat was found floating upside down. Victoriaville is 85 miles southeast of Montreal.

The first classes at Queen's University in Kingston, Ont., were opened in 1842.

Saanich Candidates Grilled Two Hours

More than 100 Saanich residents kept their four candidates for election June 9 answering questions for two hours Wednesday night at a meeting arranged by the Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association at Royal Oak Hall.

Originally designed to answer questions on agricultural problems, every subject, from the Rolston formula to fees paid governmental finance expert Carl Goldenberg, was discussed.

Speeches were devoted to party platforms and were well-known to the listeners. The interest centred in the question period that followed.

John Tisdalle, Socred candidate, refused to go along with former Saanich councillor John Oliver in having both producers and distributors on the Milk Board.

"There is a third party to consider—the consumer," Mr. Tisdalle said. "If you can bring all three together, then you have a point."

He was called on several times to defend Bills 43 and 79. He claimed that equalization of assessment, as outlined in Bill 43, was designed to make a certain assessment give the same return in different municipalities.

He did not take a stand on the speech in the session by J. A. Reid, former Salmon Arm MLA, regarding subjects taught in schools, but said "there are some things I would rather discuss with my youngster myself, rather than have them taught at school."

He said the Social Credit party would not "pass debts on to municipalities, except to provide money so they can borrow 'at home' at reasonable rates of interest," and that under Social Credit the BCHS was not losing money any more.

At this point Arthur Ash, Liberal, said that after the 1952 election former Premier Byron Johnson announced an excess of $3,000,000 in the service, that had risen to $4,000,000 by the time the legislature met.

NO CREDIT TO SOCREDS

"That was the work of the previous government, and not of Social Credit," he said.

His remarks were met with booing and shouts of "tell the truth."

Lionel Speller, a prominent Socred member, asked Mr. Ash if it were true that Carl Goldenberg, QC, Montreal economist, received $200 per day for an investigation he made in B.C.

"I suppose so," Mr. Ash said. "When you hire experts you don't get a cheap bill."

Frank Snowsall, CCF, lauded the CCF government in Saskatchewan for reducing its per capita funded debt to $88.15.

"It's $104.84 in Alberta and $123.39 in B.C.," he said. "Average income in Saskatchewan is $1,318, compared to $1,294 in B.C. and $1,252 in Alberta."

COUNCIL ARRIVES

Midway through the question period the whole Saanich Council, except Reeve Joseph Casey, entered the hall.

"I wish Mr. Bate (Councillor H. K. Bate), would say things about me when I'm around," Mr. Snowsall said. Mr. Bate did not respond, and left before the meeting was over.

Mrs. Nora Lindsay, Progressive Conservative, said she would like to see old-age pensioners included in the P.C.'s free milk program for children. She also favored including a milk producers' representative on the Milk Board to look after producers' interests, and to ensure that milk reaching consumers was of the same high standard as when it left the farm.

Chairman was Henry Robinson, dairymen's association secretary.

Canadian Would Abolish Indian Reservations

MONTREAL (CP)—Indian reservations should be abolished and Indians given the opportunity to live in places of their own choosing, says Dr. P. E. Moore, head of the Indian medical services department at Ottawa.

Addressing the annual meeting here of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association Wednesday, Dr. Moore said the TB rate among Indians is being reduced.

However, it was one thing to cure them of TB and another to try to solve their economic problems.

"People won't hire Indians as maids in their homes because it is believed that almost every Indian is a carrier of tuberculosis," he said. "This is a fallacy."

If Indians were allowed to mingle with people of other nationalities they would soon be assimilated into the population at large, he said.

Woman Flier Sets New Canadian Jet Mark

PALMDALE, Calif. (CP)—Jacqueline Cochran, flying the same Canadian Sabre jet she flew through the sound barrier, set an international speed record of 670 miles an hour over a 15-kilometre straight course.

May 23 Miss Cochran put the jet around a 500-kilometre closed circular course for an international speed record of 590.273 miles an hour.

Miss Cochran now holds all closed and straightaway international speed marks except the three-kilometre mark, and holds all the records for women.

THE DOCTOR SAYS
By EDWIN JORDAN, MD

Ragweed and Grass Pollens Are Main Hay Fever Causes

Most victims of "hay fever" do not have fever and their trouble does not come from hay. In the late spring or early summer, however, there are some who suffer with sneezing, runny noses or watery eyes. This is due to various causes, including ragweed, summer cold, or spring hay fever. It is often caused by grass pollens.

Hay fever is usually caused by plant pollens floating in the air. Several different pollens can produce the symptoms of hay fever, although the ragweeds and their relatives are responsible for more trouble in the United States and Canada than any others.

Timothy, June grass and Bermuda grass are important sources of spring hay fever. The first two--Timothy and June grass, are the worst in the northern parts of the United States, whereas in the south, Bermuda grass is the most important.

Timothy, which is also known as herd's grass, rat-tail or soldier's feather, grows wild and under cultivation through nearly all of North America. This grass sheds its pollen in late June and early July. This takes place principally in the early hours of morning, shortly after midnight, and just after sunrise.

June grass, or Kentucky blue grass, as it is sometimes called, is the principal pasture grass in America, though it is rarely cut for hay since it does not grow high enough. This grass sheds its pollen in May and early June.

The other important grass, Bermuda grass, is sometimes called scutch grass, dog's tail, or Indian doob. It is found as far north as New York and Massachusetts, but it is principally a southern grass. It tolerates the heat well and pollinates during the early and middle summer, depending on the geographical location.

RAGWEED WORST
Generally speaking, the symptoms from grasses are not as severe as those from ragweed. But the grasses do cause some trouble, and many people who are sensitive to ragweed also are sensitive to grass pollen.

Grasses are spread so widely that it is hard to get away from them. A person seriously sensitive to grass pollen usually has to consider desensitization or temporary relief with the antihistamines.

Pro-Rec Head Here Said Transferred
The transfer to Nelson of Vancouver Island Pro-Rec supervisor, Ed Kelter, was announced from the Kootenay centre today. Government officials here would not confirm the move.

Mr. Kelter was a Nelson resident prior to assuming duties here in 1947. According to the Nelson story Mr. Kelter will return in the fall as district superintendent of recreation.

Department of Education officials would not comment on the report except to say that Mr. Kelter has just returned from the Nelson-Kootenay area where he has carried out a department survey.

Officials added that a conference of provincial supervisors will be held in Victoria this summer at which time reappointments will be announced.

Oak Bay Approves Ice Cream Street Sales 7 Days a Week
The musical chimes of door-to-door ice cream vans will soon ring out in Oak Bay.
Approved at Wednesday night's council meeting was an application for license to operate two of the refrigerated vans in that municipality. The license will enable the vendors to operate seven days a week.
A letter from the applicant stated that the service would in no way compete with refreshment concessions operating on local beaches. The seven-day operation was described as necessary due to ice cream sales being relatively seasonal.
Applicant, F. Goodspeed, 2337 Heron Street, will be advised the license fee is $30 per annum for each vehicle.
Two petitions for improvements were presented to council but were referred to the works committee for study before any action will be taken.
The first, signed by Robert D. Harvey and 22 others asked widening of Dennison Road at and near its junction with Sylvan Lane and also where it joins with the road leading to the Gonzales Observatory.
Petitioners stated that increased traffic makes the widening a matter of public safety.
A second petition from William A. Hick, 2730 Musgrave Street, and others asked for construction of a 14-foot paved lane between Mayhew, Musgrave,

Seven Killed At Crossing

CHICAGO (UP)—Seven women were killed and a teen-aged girl and little boy were seriously injured Wednesday night when a Michigan Central passenger train cut their car in half at an intersection in suburban Burnham, Ill.
Police said the women apparently ignored flashing lights at the intersection.
The impact of the crash cut the car in half and threw wreckage 150 feet. The dead women and little boy were found in the back portion of the car. The injured girl was lying on the ground.
A railroad spokesman said the train, called the Niagara Canadian, was bound from Chicago to Detroit, Mich.
"It was probably traveling at a good clip," he said.

Police Quell Naples Riots Over Politics

NAPLES (AP)—Police firing into the air and hurling tear gas bombs charged 1,000 Fascist demonstrators Wednesday night in an outbreak of violence as Italy's parliamentary election campaign drew near its close.
At least 32 persons were injured seriously enough to be admitted to hospitals. Authorities said 15 police were hurt, two of them seriously, by stones and bottles.
Rioting supporters of the Italian Social Movement Party, called earlier by club-swinging police, formed again and marched through the streets, shouting "Down with the government." Police quelled the rioters a second time.

Height Mounted, Explorers Told To Turn to Ocean's Dark Depths

(By Reuters News Agency)

With the conquest of Everest, adventurous man now turns from the roof of the world to the depths of the sea.

Thirty years of bitter failure passed before New Zealand's P. Hillary, 34, and the Sherpa guide, Tensing-Norkay, 39, planted the flags of Britain, the United Nations and Nepal on the 29,000-foot summit of Everest.

Now five days later, scientists and explorers are discussing the ocean beds and laying plans to probe their secrets as that no part of the globe remains hidden in the shadows before the light of 20th century progress.

"Explorers must now turn their attention to the undiscovered depths of the ocean," Sir Douglas Mawson, famous Australian Antarctic explorer, said in Adelaide, Australia. The fields of physical geology and oceanography are now the frontiers of the world.

"Permit me, madam," the governor said, "to congratulate you on the glorious achievement of your husband, Tensing Norkay, who has set up a mountaineering record by being the first man to set foot on the summit of Everest."

Congratulatory messages from the Queen, the Duke of Edinburgh, Prime Minister Churchill and the U.S. state department await the return of the 13 triumphant British climbers at Katmandu, capital of Nepal. The British team is expected there in two weeks' time.

James VI of Scotland, who acceded to the Scottish throne in 1567, was crowned James I of England in 1603.

William Beebe off the Galapagos Islands in 1934.

Picard will explore unknown plant and animal life with the help of powerful searchlights attached to his new Italian globular bathysphere.

In 1948, he abandoned a projected 13,200-foot descent off Cape Verde Islands because his bathysphere was damaged in a trial at the end of the Ponza expedition. He may make a balloon ascent to 100,000 feet to find out whether life exists on Mars.

But the world has not forgotten the achievement of the men still on the icy walls of Everest.

Mrs. Tensing Norkay and her two children had a caller at their humble home at Darjeeling, west Bengal, Wednesday, a special messenger from Dr. Beebe, director of the state.

"Permit me, madam," the governor said, "to congratulate you on the glorious achievement of your husband, Tensing Norkay, who has set up a mountaineering record by being the first man to set foot on the summit of Everest."

Congratulatory messages from the Queen, the Duke of Edinburgh, Prime Minister Churchill and the U.S. state department await the return of the 13 triumphant British climbers at Katmandu, capital of Nepal. The British team is expected there in two weeks' time.

Labor Plans Big Changes

LONDON (Reuters) — The Labor Party will propose "drastic" Socialist measures for Britain in its policy statement to be published later this month, party secretary Morgan Phillips announced Wednesday.

He said the new domestic policy would entail "a number of material changes in the lives of our people and the sacrifice of some cherished habits and traditions."

Typhoid Vaccine Defeating Brain Fever

NEW YORK (AP) — Shots of typhoid vaccine are miraculously saving children with brain fever, two California physicians said Wednesday.

Youngsters seemingly doomed to die, or to become idiots, are instead restored to normal health, Dr. Evelynne Knopf, South Pasadena, told the American Medical Association.

They reported 50 such recoveries from encephalitis, inflammation of the brain, that followed measles infections.

All were so sick mentally, emotionally and physically it seemed doubtful they could recover, the physicians said. But they did with typhoid vaccine injections given over a period of two weeks to four months.

"So spectacular has been the return to normal in the severe or 'vegetative' cases that we must revise our thinking about the brain being permanently destroyed," they said. "No patient with encephalitis is considered hopeless, regardless of involvement, until typhoid vaccine has been given a fair trial."

One youth of 17, paralyzed from unrecognized encephalitis and in a coma, was going to school a few months later and was classified I-A by the army.

The doctors said they are using the typhoid vaccine now as standard treatment for encephalitis, regardless of the cause.

Thousands of Colorful Shriners Pour Into City for Convention

BY MONTE ROBERTS
Nobles of the Mystic Order of the Shrine are arriving in Victoria today in such numbers that the city is faced with the biggest influx ever registered for a convention.

They are coming from Dallas, Texas, and Regina, Saskatchewan; Courtenay, V.I., and New York State; London, Ontario, and San Francisco, California; Kellogg, Idaho, and Calgary, Alberta; from thousands of miles, men of the Shrine are arriving to take part in the Golden Anniversary ceremonies of Gizeh Temple.

More than 4,000 nobles, plus an estimated 1,500 wives and children, will be in Victoria for the ceremonies which open Friday and end Sunday.

Many of the rites will be attended only by the Nobles—but the rest of Victoria will have ample opportunity to enjoy the color and pageantry of the men who have dedicated their lives to providing hospital for crippled children, Temples of Mercy, and Temples of Baby Smiles.

The first Shrine activity open to the general public is a pageant and dance at Memorial Arena, Friday evening. The pageant—in which more than 1,000 uniformed nobles will appear—begins at 7:30 p.m., and at 9 the ball will open.

Saturday morning, at 8:30, there will be a flag raising ceremony at the Legislative Buildings.

The balance of the morning will be devoted to Shrine business.

Toronto Ball Club Must Pay $250 Fine

ness. At 2 p.m. a grand parade will move off from Beacon Hill Park, along Douglas Street to Chatham, and finally to Memorial Arena.

More than 1,500 men of uniformed patrols will be in the parade, plus mounted patrols, massed bands, and other colorful features.

At 7:15 p.m., massed bands will play in Beacon Hill Park. Saturday will close for the Shriners with the illustrious Potentate's reception in the Curling Rink.

Sunday morning, the ceremonies will conclude with a church parade of all units. Assembly will be on Douglas Street, behind the Empress Hotel, and the route will be north to Fort Street, east to Quadra, south to Christ Church Cathedral.

A special service will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. after which the Nobles will march back to the Empress along the same route.

Socred's Perdue To Sue Dr. Kemp On Libel Charge

Statement Admits Fraud Conviction

B.C. Social Credit League president, John Perdue, has started legal action against Point Grey Independent Dr. W. N. Kemp, who charged last week the Socred official was a fraud.

On Page 4 today will be found policy statements, in concise form, from the leaders of the four main parties engaged in the provincial election. Read these statements for a capsule account of party aims and objectives.

Mr. Perdue told the Times from Vancouver today he has started proceedings against Dr. Kemp, and the specific suit is "libel and slander."

Mr. Perdue described Dr. Kemp as "a manure spreader for the Liberal machine."

"I'm going to continue to fight Dr. Kemp and his Liberal friends," he said.

Mr. Perdue said he'll continue as president of the Socred League.

"In my disgust over this rotten attack, I said at the outset I'd offer my resignation," said Mr. Perdue. "But they wouldn't accept it."

FORMER SOCRED
Dr. Kemp is a former Socred, who Premier Bennett said, has returned to the Liberal fold.

Dr. Kemp alleged that Mr. Perdue was convicted for obtaining money by false pretenses in Vancouver between 1928 and 1933.

Mr. Perdue said in a radio broadcast, Wednesday night, that a "foolish mistake" he made 25 years ago while seeking work got him into trouble with the law.

PREMIER READY TO FLY SOLDIERS TO KOOTENAYS

NELSON (BUP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett said Wednesday night he would have soldiers flown into the Kootenays from Calgary, Alta., if necessary, to deal with any further Doukhobor violence.

The reason for the move, he said, was that he would have the soldiers flown in "within a matter of hours." Bennett met representatives of the Slokan Citizens' Committee and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

His assurance of military action came in answer to a question from George Turner and W. H. Towhey, railway representatives.

HOUSEWIVES GREET QUEEN

Oh, Aren't You Lovely!

LONDON (UP)—Housewives of London's drab working-class districts today hailed their radiant Queen with admiring shouts "Oh, aren't you lovely," as the newly-crowned monarch drove through northwest London.

The Queen wore a navy blue costume, edged with white, and a smart, white, close-fitting hat for the second of her series of tours of London which will give her subjects a chance to see their sovereign "close-up."

Beside her in her open limousine rode the Duke of Edinburgh in morning clothes. Both were so smilingly happy that their good humor was infectious.

Weather Sets Farmers Back Three Weeks

EDMONTON (CP)—Rain and hail, backed by strong winds and lightning, left the Prairies Wednesday after washing out crops, railroads and Coronation celebrations.

Farmers in the Moose Jaw district reported that an estimated 30 per cent of the seeded crop was under water. Work on fields is expected to be suspended for three weeks.

In the Drumheller district of Alberta, farmers found heavy run-off of water to have seriously eroded low-lying cropland.

Farther south, hail piled as high as two feet in some small sections of the Lethbridge district and Monday night's lightning killed three cows. Some areas report that winter wheat and rye fields were wiped out.

CROWD OF 50,000
A crowd of more than 50,000 saw them leave Buckingham Palace in a limousine with its top down. Their cheers of acclaim were an echo of the frenzy of the Coronation 48 hours earlier.

All along the route through Chelsea, Fulham, Hammer-smith, Hampstead, Kensington, Paddington, St. Marylebone and St. Pancras it was the same.

London seemed reluctant to lose the magic of the Coronation season. The mood everywhere was to keep the celebrations going as long as possible.

The entire route of the Queen's drive today was lined with window boxes filled with flowers.

Next Monday she will drive through southeast London and the following day through the southwest district of the sprawling capital.

Traffic was again in chaos in this capital of the Commonwealth today as streets were blocked off for the full dress rehearsal of trooping the color—the traditional ceremony by the Brigade of Guards for the Queen's official birthday, June 11.

Historic Horse Guards' parade was a sea of scarlet as the Guards went through the complicated drill which is the highlight of the military year. The Queen will ride to the actual ceremonies next Thursday with the Duke of Edinburgh riding behind her. But today an expert horsemanship, Mrs. Archer Houlton, stood in for the Queen riding the horse, "Winston," which the Queen will ride.

DOUBLE THE SIZE OF HIROSHIMA BLAST
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP)—The most powerful atomic bomb ever set off in the United States burst with the brilliance of a giant sun in the pre-dawn darkness today, lighting the western sky from Canada to Mexico and from the Golden Gate to Colorado.

One group of observers saw the flash in Lethbridge, Alta., a 1,000 miles away.

The tremendous explosion, possibly two and one-half times as strong as the A blasts of the Second World War, concluded the Atomic Energy Commission's spring test series.

The AEC would not disclose officially just how strong the bomb was, but it was known to pack the explosive punch of more than 40,000 tons of TNT, and possibly as much as 50,000 tons. The bombs used in the Second World War and the B-1 tests equaled 20,000 tons.

The brilliant flash was seen in southern Canada and deep in Mexico, where an observer said the flash "seemed to come from all over the sky."

A patrolman at Ogden, Utah, said "You couldn't miss it. It was like a giant sun."

The shock of the 4.15 a.m. explosion rattled windows in Los

Only Minor Differences Reported in Proposals

(Compiled from AP, UP Dispatches)

WASHINGTON—The Communist and United Nations commands were reported today to be close to agreement on a Korean armistice.

Officially, there was the closest secrecy but it was clear that in high quarters of the government there was strong confidence that agreement on a truce was at hand.

munjom, Korea, all major points in the Red proposal were identical to those in the "final" UN offer for compromising the prisoner of war issue which has deadlocked the truce negotiations.

The Communist counter-proposal, read to Allied representatives at a secret session at the truce talk site Wednesday, apparently brought peace in Korea closer than it has been since truce talks opened nearly two years ago.

Only the actual wording of the long Red plan differed from the UN proposals.

Immediately after the meeting, the UN called for a one-day recess and the Red reply was rushed to Washington.

UN Plan Said 'Plagiarized'
The source, who could not be identified, said the Communists plan "plagiarized" the UN proposal of May 25. It "virtually agreed" with the Allied plan with differences only in "amendments on wording."

Terms of the UN proposal, disclosed officially, call for between "5,000 and 10,000" neutral troops to take custody of North Korean and Chinese prisoners who refuse to return home at six points in South Korea, the source said.

South Korean leaders have protested such a plan, especially the bringing in of troops from Communist satellites. RoK truce negotiators have boycotted the armistice meetings, and were not present at the last session.

The Reds had no quarrel with "detailed technical methods" as to how neutral nations would take custody of prisoners refusing repatriation, the source said.

Despite a tight security clamp on the final UN formula presented at the meeting of May 25, it was generally believed the Allied proposal included these points:

1. Troops from five neutral nations, the majority from India, would guard Red prisoners refusing repatriation. Other nations suggested for policing duties were Switzerland, Sweden, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

2. Prisoners refusing to go home would be placed in the custody of a UN repatriation commission for 90 days while Red representatives under neutral supervision would attempt to persuade them to return.

3. After the 90-day period those still refusing repatriation would be turned over to a high-level political conference with final disposition of the reluctant prisoners resting in the hands of the UN General Assembly.

OTTAWA (CP)—An external affairs department spokesman said today it would be "wonderful" if the Communists accept United Nations truce terms in Korea.

However, the spokesman said that so far the department has received no official word that agreement on a truce is near.

Process Multiplies Power 100 Times

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UP)—Gordon Dean announced today successful demonstration of atomic "breeding"—a process expected ultimately to multiply the world's nuclear fuel resources more than 100 times.

Dean, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, announced what he called this "new milestone" in man's conquest of the atom at the annual meeting of the Edison Electric Institute here.

He said atomic breeding, accomplished at the AEC's nuclear reactor testing station in Idaho, is as important in its implications for the future as if man had learned to produce 100 gallons of gasoline out of water for every 100 gallons of gasoline burned.

Breeding is the production of atomic fuel (fissionable material) simultaneously with the consumption of atomic fuel. Theoretically it is possible to manufacture more fuel than is consumed.

The AEC so far, however, has been able to breed only at the same rate it consumes fissionable materials, Dean said.

Even that, however, gives promise that it will be possible to convert all of the world's uranium into the material of bombs and fuels. As of now, only seven-tenths of one per cent of natural uranium is fissionable.

With breeding, however, it is possible to transform all of the non-fissionable kind into atomic fuel, thus multiplying reserves by 140.

They found none. They acknowledged the air force intercontinental B-36 bomber, the first plane designed specifically as an atomic bomber, dropped today's bomb "from a high altitude."

It was the first announced use of a B-36 in any atomic test.

BULLETINS

Perdue Issued Writ Against Kemp

VANCOUVER—The Vancouver Province says that unstated damages for alleged slander and libel were claimed by J. J. Perdue, president of the British Columbia Social Credit League, from Dr. W. N. Kemp, in a writ issued out of Supreme Court today by W. A. Schultz on behalf of the plaintiff.

Tacoma Seeks WIL Ball Franchise

TACOMA (BUP)—Baseball fans here moved today to back a proposal of a radio station (KMP) sports director to campaign for a Western International League franchise when the league officials meet in Spokane Monday.

Sportscaster Bob Robertson revealed today that he has learned there is a strong possibility financially weak franchises in the class A loop are available "at the right price."
Tacoma lost its WIL franchise two years ago when box office support fell off.

Philly Pitcher Simmons Injured

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pitcher Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies was seriously injured today in an accident at his home. He suffered severe lacerations on the left foot when he was operating a lawnmower. He was taken to Abington Memorial Hospital.

The young Phillies southpaw was reported in satisfactory condition shortly after being admitted to the hospital. He was taken to the operating room.

Washington Mystery Man Fined

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry Grunewald, Washington mystery man and influence-peddler, was fined $1,000 and given a suspended jail sentence today for contempt of Congress. The judge said the sentence was light because Grunewald, in refusing to answer questions before a congressional committee, had been following the bad advice of his counsel.

Brandon Flood Brings Warning to Evacuate

BRANDON (CP)—Families in the low-lying areas of Brandon today are anxiously watching the rapidly-rising Assiniboine River, which has swollen almost five feet in the last three days.

The river level at 9 a.m. CDT today stood at 16.11 feet, compared with 12 feet on Monday. Flood level is 18 feet.

Shortly after midnight Wednesday, chief constable Harry Collister issued a warning urging families situated near the river to be ready to evacuate their homes.

About 50 families are immediately affected. But the danger to countless others in Brandon and rural points grows as heavy rains continue to fall.

Brandon already has received nearly double its normal three-inch rainfall for June. The total fall this month now stands at 5.42 inches.

Officials said the swollen waters already have seeped over the banks at low points and basement flooding in homes on the flats has been reported.

With the water still slightly more than a foot from flood level, they said "the next foot is the tough one as it spreads out."

But they still expect a heavy dumping from the Minnedosa and Qu'Appelle rivers which empty into the Assiniboine.
Both are reported rising rapidly.

HOUSEWIVES GREET QUEEN

Oh, Aren't You Lovely!

LONDON (UP)—Housewives of London's drab working-class districts today hailed their radiant Queen with admiring shouts "Oh, aren't you lovely," as the newly-crowned monarch drove through northwest London.

The Queen wore a navy blue costume, edged with white, and a smart, white, close-fitting hat for the second of her series of tours of London which will give her subjects a chance to see their sovereign "close-up."

Beside her in her open limousine rode the Duke of Edinburgh in morning clothes. Both were so smilingly happy that their good humor was infectious.

All along the route through Chelsea, Fulham, Hammer-smith, Hampstead, Kensington, Paddington, St. Marylebone and
St. Pancras it was the same.

London seemed reluctant to lose the magic of the Coronation season. The mood everywhere was to keep the celebrations going as long as possible.

The entire route of the Queen's drive today was lined with window boxes filled with flowers.

Next Monday she will drive through southeast London and the following day through the southwest district of the sprawling capital.

Trading on Vancouver board was at a minimum and generally lower prices prevailed.

Beaverlodge dropped five cents to trade at $1.40 just before the close this afternoon. Estella was down three at 46. Four at 60.

Canadian Atlantic was 5.65, a 20-cent decline; Del Rio dropped 10 to 2.70, and United Oil also lost 10 to 1.05.

Sil-Van reversed the trend by advancing to 51, up two cents.

Capital Estates traded at $21, unchanged. York Oil also was unchanged at 40.

Socred's Perdue To Sue Dr. Kemp On Libel Charge

Statement Admits Fraud Conviction

B.C. Social Credit League president, John Perdue, has started legal action against Dr. W. N. Kemp, who charged last week the Socred official had a criminal record.

On Page 4 today will be found policy statements, in concise form, from the leaders of the four main parties engaged in the provincial election. Read these statements for a capsule account of party aims and objectives.

Mr. Perdue told the Times from Vancouver today he has started proceedings against Dr.
Kemp, and the specific suit is "libel and slander."

Mr. Perdue described Dr.
Kemp as "a manure spreader for the Liberal machine."

"I'm going to continue to fight Dr. Kemp and his Liberal friends," he said.

Mr. Perdue said he'll continue as president of the Socred League.

"In my disgust over this ro-ten attack, I said at the outset
I'd offer my resignation," said Mr. Perdue. "But they wouldn't accept it."

Dr. Kemp is a former Socred, who Premier Bennett said, has returned to the Liberal fold.

Dr. Kemp alleged that Mr.
Perdue was convicted for obtaining money by false pretenses in Vancouver between 1928 and 1933.

Mr. Perdue said in a radio broadcast, Wednesday night that a "foolish mistake" he made 25 years ago while seeking work got him into trouble with the law.

Official Host for Convention

Illustrious Potentate of Gizeh Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S., is Robert H. Johnson, Vancouver, who is host to more than 4,000 Shriners here to celebrate the temple's golden anniversary. Other illustrious Potentates in

Colorful Shriners Pouring Into City

BY MONTE ROBERTS
Nobles of the Mystic Order of the Shrine are arriving in Victoria today in such numbers that the city is faced with the biggest influx ever registered for a convention.

They are coming from Dallas, Texas, and Regina, Saskatchewan; Courtenay, V.I., and New York, State; London, Ontario, and San Francisco, California; Kellogg, Idaho, and Calgary, Alberta; from thousands of miles, men of the Shrine are arriving to take part in the Golden Anniversary ceremonials of Gizeh Temple.

More than 4,000 nobles, plus an estimated 1,500 wives and children, will be in Victoria for the ceremonies which open Friday and end Sunday.

Many of the rites will be attended only by the Nobles—but the rest of Victoria will have ample opportunity to enjoy the color and pageantry of the men, who have dedicated their lives to providing hospitals for crippled children, Temples for the maimed, and Temples of Baby Smiles.

The first Shrine activity open to the general public is a pageant and dance at Memorial Arena, Friday evening. The pageant—in which more than 1,000 uniformed nobles will appear—begins at 7:30 p.m., and at 9 the ball will open.

Saturday morning, at 8:30,
there will be a flag raising ceremony at the Legislative Buildings.

The balance of the morning will be devoted to Shrine business. At 2 p.m. a grand parade will move off from Beacon Hill Park, along Douglas Street to Chatham, and finally to Memorial Arena.

More than 1,500 men of uniformed patrols will be in the parade, plus mounted patrols, massed bands, and other colorful features.

At 7:15 p.m., massed bands will play in Beacon Hill Park.
Saturday will close for the Shriners with the illustrious Potentate's reception in the Curling Rink.

Sunday morning, the ceremonials will conclude with a church parade of all units.
Assembly will be on Douglas Street, behind the Empress Hotel.

UN, Red Plans Close Is Unofficial Word

WASHINGTON—The Communist and United Nations commands were reported today to be close to agreement on a Korean war armistice.

Officially, there was the closest secrecy but it was clear that in high quarters of the government there was strong confidence that agreement on a truce was at hand.

There was a notable increase of optimism among officials and some indication the latest Red response could be considered as virtual acceptance of the UN proposals.

According to sources at Panmunjom, Korea, all major points in the Red proposal were identical to those in the "final" UN offer for compromising the prisoner of war issue which has deadlocked the truce negotiations.

The Communist counter-proposal, read to Allied representatives at a secret session at the truce talk site Wednesday, apparently brought peace in Korea closer than it has been since truce talks opened nearly two years ago.

Only the actual wording of the lengthy Red plan differed from the UN proposal, the source said.

Immediately after the meeting, the UN called for a one-day recess and the Red reply was rushed to Washington.

The source, who could not be identified, said the Communists plan "plagiarized" the UN proposal of May 25. It "virtually agreed" with the Allied plan with differences only in "amendments on wording."

Terms of the UN proposal, undisclosed officially, call for between "5,000 and 10,000" neutral troops to take custody of North Korean and Chinese prisoners who refuse to return home at six points in South Korea, the source said.

South Korean leaders have protested such a plan, especially the bringing in of troops from Communist satellites. Rok truce negotiators have boycotted the armistice meetings, and were not present at the last session.

The Reds had no quarrel with "detailed technical methods" as to how neutral nations would take custody of prisoners refusing repatriation, the source said.

Despite a tight security clamp on the UN formula presented at the meeting of May 25, it was generally believed the Allied proposal included these points:

1. Troops from five neutral nations, the majority from India, would guard Red prisoners refusing repatriation. Other nations suggested for policing duties were Switzerland, Sweden, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

2. Prisoners refusing to go home would be placed in the custody of a UN repatriation commission for 90 days while Red representatives under neutral supervision would attempt to persuade them to return.

3. After the 90-day period those still refusing repatriation would be turned over to a high-level political conference with final disposition of the reluctant prisoners resting in the hands of the UN General Assembly.

OTTAWA (CP)—An external affairs department spokesman said today it would be "wonderful" if the Communists accept United Nations truce terms in Korea.

However, the spokesman said that so far the department has received no official word that agreement on a truce is near.

CROSSWORD PRIZE HITS $150 AS 'COB' STUMPS THOUSANDS

It was a three-letter word that kept most entrants from winning the Victoria Times crossword puzzle No. 10. Literally thousands of them gave "cob" as the answer to the definition "young and tasty." "Cob," meaning a young herring, was the word needed.

No one won, so the prize for puzzle No. 11, which will appear Friday, will be $150. The complete answer to puzzle No. 10 is on Page 19.

Nevada A-Bomb Flash Seen at Lethbridge

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP)—
The most powerful atomic bomb ever set off in the United States burst with the brilliance of a giant sun in the pre-dawn darkness today, lighting the western sky from Canada to Mexico and from the Golden Gate to Colorado.

One group of observers saw the flash in Lethbridge, Alta., a 1,000 miles away.

The tremendous explosion, possibly two and one-half times as strong as the A-blasts of the Second World War, concluded the Atomic Energy Commission's spring test series.

The AEC would not disclose officially just how strong the bomb was, but it was known to pack the explosive punch of more than 40,000 tons of TNT, and possibly as much as 50,000 tons. The bombs used in the Second World War and the Bikini tests equaled 20,000 tons.

The brilliant flash was seen in southern Canada and deep in Mexico, where an observer said the flash "seemed to come from all over the sky."

A patrolman at Ogden, Utah, said, "You couldn't miss it. It was like a giant sun."

The shock of the 4:15 a.m. explosion rattled windows in Los Angeles, and hit Modesto, Calif., with a rumble that one radio announcer said "sounded like someone trying to break down the front door with a sledgehammer."

"A severe jar" jolted Western Pacific Railroad installations, along the Feather River Canyon, and maintenance men were dispatched to check for possible slides. They found none.

Officials acknowledge the air force intercontinental B-36 bomber, the first plane designed specifically as an atomic bomber, dropped today's bomb
"from a high altitude."

It was the first announced use of a B-36 in any atomic test.
